Advantages of Los Angeles Set Forth and the Needs of the South Pa-cific Slope Made Evident—A Hearing Today.

WASHINGTON (D. C.,) Feb. 16.— (Special Dispatch.) Col. H. G. Otis, W. C. Patterson, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce; W. D. Woolwine and W. G. Kerckhoff of Los Angeles and E. P. Hooper of San Francisco are here and will appear before the River and Harbor Committee tomorrow morning in be-half of the Free Harbor League to urge the passage of an appropriation of $390,000 recommended by the governnent engineers for improving the inner harbor of San Pedro.

No delegation has ever come with papers in better shape. The memo-rial issued is a model for clear, forcible presentation of facts, logic of ar ence. It speaks in the name of 200 members of the Free Harbor League, undersigned by 1000 members of the Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles, and sufficiently sets forth the advantages of Los Angeles, its 80,000 people, its sixteen lines of railroads the orange industry, which in infancy amounts to a trainload for every day in the year, valued at $3,500,000; its diversified interests, remarkable growth of the country, the important fact that transcontinental lines must pass that way, the Central Pacific having to climb 7017 feet, as compared with 3819 feet for the Santa Fe, 2822 for the Atlantic and Pacific and 2560 for the Southern Pacific, the shortest from tidewater to tidewater by 800 miles.

The reports of the Board of United States Engineers in 1892 recommend-ing the construction of the harbor at cost of $21,885,824; the report of the Sovernment Board of Engineers of 1890; the report of the Chamber of Commerce of September 8, 1892; the letter of Lieut.-Col. W. H. H. Benyuard, submitted by the Secretary of War to the Senate last February, ecommending $392,725 for further in provements, together with maps, constitute the documentary matter, all of which is very carefully arranged and indexed. It will be shown that the whole South Pacific slope will be greatly benefited by the improvement.

The members of the delegation have already called upon Senators White and Perkins and Representative McLachlan and they will add their influence to that exerted by the delegates. President Patterson wired Los Angeles to have the Chamber of Commerce take immediate official action for use here tered the general cry that the expenditures will be cut this session, so far a can now be determined the prospects are favorable, and it is fully believe that the hearing tomorrow will make them even more so.

MRS. LEASE PREACHES. Tells How One Should Love His Enemies. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 15.—A special to the Journal from Wichita, Kan., says that today Mrs. Lease made her debut into the ministry. She preached her initial sermon and conducted her first public exercises in the Central Christion Church, to an audience that extended out into the middle of the avenue. The saying tonight is that every-body in Wichita was present except the preacher's docile and practical husband, who went down town early in the morning, swept out his drug store and did a prosperous business while his eloquent wife was preaching.

When Mrs. Lease arose to speak, "to skin the wolves in the church," as she had promised, she beheld ex-Gov. Lewelling, her open enemy, "rubbernecking" through the door, and then she changed her mind altogether, and delivered a sermon on how one should love his enemies. It was at once recognized that she was speaking for the ex-Governor's soul particularly, and her remarks were listened to with interest. After the sermon she said: "I love Mr. Lewelling as a private citizen. Ah, I see you don't catch my sarcasm; I said as a 'private citizen.' A great many deafmutes were present and had the words of the speaker interpreted to them.

them. Mrs. Lease delivered another serm Mrs. Lease delivered another sermon to an audience fully as large as the morning congregation this evening. There was only one instance in which Mrs. Lease departed from the spirit of love that pervaded her sermon, and that was when she said that the church heretofore had told only half the truth, and while they were discussing dogmatic theology the mouth of yawning hell was swallowing the poor souls who did not comprehend them.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.-Mrs. Lena Blanchard is very bitter against Rev. Dr. Brown for having, as she given publicity to a statement in which she is made to say what she did not say in her affidavit. Mrs. Blanchard's displeasure is caused by the publication of an affidavit signed by herself, in which she says that she voted against the resolution of confidence in Dr. Brown because Mrs. Sarah B. Cooper urged her to do so. Mrs. Blanchard is not a member of the church, and says she voted through misapprehension. She member of the church, and says she voted through misapprehension. She says Dr. Brown came to her vesterday and threatened her with arrest if she refused to sign a statement setting forth the facts in the case.

Mrs. Blanchard says she refused to sign the statement, and at her solicitation the objectionable words about coercion were stricken out. The statement was printed in its out. The statement was printed in its original form, however, and Mrs. Blanchard accuses Dr. Brown of alter-ing the affidavit after it left her hands.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—(By Atlantic Cable.) In a special supplement to the Gazette published on Sunday is printed the following letter from the Queen, dated February 14:

"I have, alas, once more to thank my Joyal subjects for their warm sympathy in the fresh and grievous afficition which has befallen me and my beloved daughter. Beatrice, Princess of Battenberg. This new sorrow is an overwhelming, and to me, a double one; for I lose a dearly loved and helpful son whose presence was like a bright sunbeam. In my home and my daughter loses a noble and devoted husband, to whom she was united by the closest affection. To witness the blighted happiness of the daughter who has never left me and has comforted and belped me, is hard to bear; but the feeling of universal sympathy so touchingly shown by all classes of my subjects has deeply moved my child and myself and has helped and soothed us greatly. I wish from my heart to thank my people for this, as well as for the appreciation manifested for the dear and gallant Prince who laid down his life in the service of his adopted country. My beloved, resignation and submission to the will of God."

A Negro Cab-driver's Story of the Fatal Ride.

Railroad Iron, Wrapped Up in the Dental Student's Coat, Fished Out of a Sewer Catch-basin. Talk of Lynching.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

CINCINNATI (O.,) Feb. 16.-The ex itement in this city and vicinity over the atrocious murder of Pearl Bryan developments made last night. Peo ple had time to read the papers today. The feeling tonight is of the silent, but ready sort that portends latent danger. No outbreak is anticipated and successful lynching here would be out of the question with the present effi-ciency of the police and the military. While the feeling here is of the ex sort, the external restraint is sufficient to prevent an explosion. Ev ery other man one meets expresses the of these men. The thinking and strictly law-abiding element in Covington and Newport lieve in depending on the courts to mete out justice to the prisoner. It is now probable that they will be taken to the Covington jail, which is very strongly guarded and well situated to resist a siege. The fail in Newport weak. The detectives have a clew the surrey that was employed to carry the human tigers and the victim to the scene of the slaughter. They think they have found the surrey on Wal-Hill and they are trying to iden nut Hill and they are trying to identify it.

A special circumstance that gives weight to the testimony of George H. Jackson, the negro who drove the surrey to Fort Thomas, is the high name he bears among all his employers. Mr. Rebstock, liveryman for whom he worked for two years, said: "He is the best and truest all-round negro I have ever seen." Maj. Widdekind of McGregor avenue, Mt. Auburn, the negro's employer, says: "George H. Jackson is highly intelligent, very reticent, has no bad habits, never drinks liquors or uses tobacco; is competent trustworthy and efficient as an employe and is an active member of the Second and is an active member of the Second Colored Baptist Church. He takes two daily papers, and is a man of more than ordinary intelligence. I have the most complete confidence in his verac-daily papers, and is a man of more than ordinary intelligence. I have the most complete confidence in his veracity and integrity."

Maj. Widdekind and the family have noticed that he has been unusually silent since the murder, and that he has lost appetite. Another circumstance in his favor is that there is an offer of the cab driver. George H. Jackson has not made any claim for this reward, nor has he ever spoken of it. In his statement last night he said he found in the surrey, instead of a round hitching weight, a piece of railroad rail, about a foot long, while waiting for the two men who had gone away with the girl at the place of the murder. It had two holes through it. A leather strap was fastened to one of the holes. That he used for a hitching weight, and soon ran away as fast as he could run until he came home.

Right here is the great point in the cisely such a piece of railroad iron that cisely such a piece of railroad iron that was wrapped up in Jackson's bloody coat when it was fished out of a sewer catch basin at the cor-ner of John and Richmond streets several days ago. What emphasizes this evidence is that the fact that his coat was wrapped around a piece of railroad iron has never been mentioned in the newspapers.

Another circumstance that supports Another circumstance that supports Jackson's story that the conveyance used was a surrey and that Jackson abandoned it in fright one tragic night, is the fact that a gentleman of Newport, driving toward Fort Thomas in a buggy on that Saturday morning about 3 o'clock, met a surrey drawn by a gray horse, with two men on the front seat, and collided with it. He got out and the men in the surrey drove on toward Newport at a furious rate. This man's name is not given, but he will be on hand when required as a witness.

will be on nand when required as a witness.

As if to clinch the matter a procession of carriages containing policemen and reporters started at 12:45 o'clock to Fort Thomas last night. Jackson drove the leading carriage. The procession struck the murderer's route at Vine and Third streets and, with Jackson for a guide, followed it to the bloody ground. Halt was made at Newport bridge toolbooth to seek another link in the awful chain that hinds these bloody ground. Halt was made at New-port bridge toolbooth to seek another link in the awful chain that binds these men to the guilt of Pearl Bryan's mur-der. Toll Collector Garvin said he re-membered the surrey driven by a col-ored man passing over the bridge about o'clock on the morning of February 1. It contained a man and a woman, and there was a white man with the negro Inence by dim country roads to the Alexandria pike. It was about twice as far as the drive to the fort by the nearest route.

The examination of the twenty or thirty men in a semi-chacle at the jail last midnight by the colored man Jackson, was dramatic in the extreme. Wallings stood near one extremity of the arc. The negro Jackson began his inspection at Walling's end of the line. He examined everyone, man by man, until he got to the end of the line. Then he turned, walked briskly back and halted in front of Walling. All this time he had not spoken a word. Viewing Walling all around. like a man examining a horse he was about to buy, he stepped in front of him and said: "That is the man that sat on the seat with me."

Scott Jackson was identified as to size and partially as to the sound of his voice. The negro's extreme caution gives force to his evidence. He said: "I don't want to make any mistake," and then he took his time in making the examination.

Jackson, when the thing was over, talked flippantity to his visitors. To one he said: "Call the jailor and ask him if he found a surrey in my pockets when he searched me."

He tried to ridicule the multitude of clews that are followed. Walling is more sulfer and reticent. He denounces the negro's statement as a lie. The visitors admitted to see the men number hundreds daily, and for one admitted ten are denied admittance.

Detectives Crim and McDermott tonight discovered a rockaway and a gray horse in the stable of the Walnut Hills Cab Company, which was hired out between 4 and 7 o'clock on January 21, and was returned at 4 o'clock February 1. President Mulien of the cab company says that the man who hired it was about the size and general appearance of Walling and he thought he had a dark complexon. The carnet in 31, and was returned at 4 o'clock February 1. President Mullen of the cab company says that the man who hired it was about the size and general appearance of Walling and he thought he had a dark complexion. The carpet in the rockaway had blood spots on it and a bloody pencil was found in it.

The negro Jackson drove the horse and says it is less spirited than the one he drove the night of the murder, and that it plunges forward and takes the bit in its mouth the same way. He falled to identify the rocakawy, but says it may be made to look like a surrey by the use of storm curtains. George H. Jackson was placed at the northwest corner of George and Elm street a few minutes after 11 o'clock and the one-seated rockaway cab, with the gray horse was driven down Elm street to the spot. After a further look at the cab he said: "I am sure it is the same one."

He was informed of the reports of his alleged embezzlement from Springfield. He said: "II were an embezzler in the United Brethren of Friendship I would have appeared on the quarterty black-list. I am not on that list." He pronounces the whole story false.

It is believed that Mrs. Chanler, who secured a divorce from her husband, John Armstrong Chanler, in the latter part of last year, met the Prince, who is well known in social and artistic circles in London and Paris while she was being entertained in London. Mrs. Chanler returned from Europe a week mained. Prince Troubetskoi arrived only a few days ago and went at once to the nearest railway station to Castle Hill whence he was driven to the home of his betrothed. The marriage cere mony will take place very soon in Richmond. Prince Troubetzkoi is described as an exceedingly fine-looking man of more than six feet in height, fair of complexion and 45 years old. He is known as a painter of very clever pletures and composer of a four-act opera, "Melusine," which, last March, was produced in Moscow and caused con-

Jenntor Call Will Endeavor to Call Up His Cuban Resolution—The Calendar Favored—Contested Elections-Adjournment.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.-The pros pects are for a busy week in the Sen-ate, but outside of the fact that Senator Davis will speak on Monday in support of the Monroe doctrine and that appropriation bills which have been reported will be taken up and nate appropriation bills which have been reported will be taken up and probably disposed of, no definite forecast of the proceedings can be given. Senator Davis's speech is expected to be a strong and logical expression of the views of the more advanced advocates of the Monroe doctrine. There are three of the appropriation bills on the Senate calendar, but it is not believed that any of them, unless it be the consular and diplomatic bill, will arouse any prolonged debate. It is probable the diplomatic bill may not excite debate. This bill affords an opportunity to discuss foreign affairs generally allowed to pass without Senators availing themselves of this opening to discuss diplomatic questions. It is also possible that the pension bill will be taken advantage of to discuss the pension question at some length. The Military Academy Appropriation bill will be the first of the series to be taken up.

The Cuban resolution has been given the place of precedence after the appropriation bills, but it is not yet certain that this subject will be taken up seriously until the Senators who may wish to speak upon it shall have opportunity to prepare themselves. Senator Call will speak on the subject if he succeeds in getting it up, and probably one or two other Senators will be heard. The Senate committees have been unusually active since the holiday, with the consequence that there is an accumulation of business enough to cover twenty-seven pages of the calendar, embracing subjects in which all the Senators are interested. There is, therfore, a general desire to get to work on the calendar and the probabilities are that, with the appropriation bills out of the way, the calendar may be rosorted to and a large number of bills of minor importance acted upon. There continues to be more or less discussion of a private nature among Senators as to the probabilities of getting up the tatriff bill in some form, but this depends almost wholly upon whether the friends of the bill can obtain assurance of success in whatever move they make.

The representatives of both the ma-

There is beginning to be a great deal of talk in the Senate of an early adjournment. If it is made evident that there will be no tarif legislation many Senators think that an adjournment by the first of June will be possible.

ment by the first of June will be possible.

Most of the time this week will be taken up in the House with the consideration of appropriation bills. The Agricultural Bill, which was taken up yesterday should be disposed of tomorrow, unless a prolonged debate should be precipitated on the question of seed distribution by the Agricultural Department. The Indian and Army Appropriation bills are ready and the committee expects to have the Executive, Legislative and Judiciary Bill reported by Wednesday. The Foreign Affairs Committee will call up the resolution to censure Ambassador Bayard as soon as those in charge of the appropriation bills, which have the right of way, afford an opportunity to do so. The Foreign Affairs Committee is working on a Cuban resolution and it may possibly be reported to the House this week. The trend of opinion in the committee favors a resolution expressing it as the sense of Congress that a state of war exists in Cuba and requesing the President to issue his proclamation recognizing the insurgents as belligerents.

The report on the contested election case of Van Horne vs. Tarsney, from the Fifth Missouri District, which has been submitted to the House, can be called up by the committee at any time as it is a matter of higher privilege than an appropriation bill. The report is in favor of the contestant, but a minority report will be filed on Tuesday recommending that the case be recommitted and the testimony reopened.

(BY ASSOCIATED FRESS WIRE.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Dr. Donaldson Smith, the young Philadelphia physician who has recently experienced some stirring adventures on his expedition to Lake Rudolph, Africa, arrived here today from England on board the steamer St. Louis. He was in the best of health and looked well. He goes direct to his home in Philadelphia where he will be busy with his book on his last journey. Dr. Smith contemplates another expedition to Northwest Africa.

Perhaps of the greatest popular interest is Dr. Smith's discovery of many new tribes whose existence was previously unknown. Among these is a race of pigmies, the fact of whose discovery has caused something like a commotion in scientific circles. These people are of negro type and are coal biack and absolutely naked. Although of great physical beauty, with formed limbs, they are barely removed from animals and their code of morality is very lax. Late in life they settle down and marry. These remarkable people are all between four and five feet high and live in primitive wood huts. The only industry is corn-raising and the rearing of sheep and goats. They are born hunters. In warfare they use poisoned arrows, the wounds inflicted by which prove fatal within an hour.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Prof. R. L.
Garner of Roanoke, Va., who was dispatched last summer on a second trip to the jungles of Africa by the African Research Society of Chicago, arrived today on the steamer Etruria. He went for the purpose of completing his monkey alphabet and learning more about the language of monkeys. Prof. S. H. Peabody of the University of Chicago, was one of the backers of the enterprise. Prof. Garner returns, he says, with much new information. He has in his portfolio a photograph of the most brutal gorilla man in Africa. This gorilla man would be called in Australia a bushman.

Prof. Garner considers that his mission in perfecting himself in the monkey tongue has been largely accomplished. "I am convinced that monkeys talk to sach other," says he, "and that some of them possess a higher intelligence and a greater fluency of language than many of the African particle." PROF. LONDON, Feb. 16.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The buillon requirements for the American loan have proved less than was expected and has been mostly purchased in the open markets. Money rates were a trifle firmer. The stock market was very quiet for the week, but prices were well sustained, especially for gilt-edged securities. Mines opened well at the beginning of the week, but the dublous situation in the Transvaal produced a reaction and the upward movement was arrested. The buying by German and French operators continues steady, and altogether makes a healthy appearance. Foreigners who will be subjected as a smart advance. Argentine stocks and railways were firm. American railways securities, after a smart advance early in the week, became lifeless, the speculating fever having returned to the mining market. Adverse rumors regarding the Baltimore and Ohio had a deterrent effect. Canadian Pacific was strong on the unexpected announcement of a dividend. Grand Trunk fell 2 points on the publication of the working report. The advances for the week were as follows: Chicago. Milwaukee and St. Paul, Louisville and Atchison mortgages, % per cent.; Atchison and Wabash ½. The decreases were: Norfolk and Western, 1%; Reading, firsts, 1½; Erie second and Lake Shore, ½.

MANCHESTER MILL PRODUCTS. MANCHESTER, Feb. 16.-The mar-MANCHESTER, Feb. 16.—The market has been irregular, especially for yarns. The continent was not buying much. On the whole stocks were burdens. A big business was done for India, chiefly for choice goods like dhoolies, which were engaged ahead. Shirtings were fairly bought. Many looms have started up again. The home trade was good. The Eastern trade was much assisted by the rising exchange rates.

RUSSIA'S TRICKY MOVE.

THE KING OF KOREA CORRALED AT HER LEGATION.

Treason-Two are Executed and the Others Flee-An Anti-Japanese Cabinet Chosen.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) LONDON, Feb. 16.—The Times will orint a dispatch from Kobe, Japan, tomorrow, which says that news from Seoul, Korea, proves that Russia made a remarkable coup on the night of February 10. On that night 200 Russian marines with a field gun were landed at Chemulpo and marched to Seoul.

The King secretly left the palace for the Russian legation, whence he pro-claimed his ministers guilty of treason. Two of the ministers were arrested and executed and the other fied. The Tai Won Kun, the father of the King, Tal Won Kun, the father of the King, is a prisoner at the legation.

The anti-Japanese ministry was then formed. A bitter feeling has been aroused in Japan. A council was held attended by the military officials. It is reported the Russian minister declared that Russia was not responsible and that he merely afforded protection at the King's request, but it is believed this portends a Russion protectorate over Korea.

The third proclamation is as follows:

PROCLAMATION.

Don Valeriano Weyler Y Nicolau, Marquis of Teneriffe, Governor-General and Captain General of the Island of Cuba, general-in-chief of the army, etc. I make known that, taking advantage of the temporary insecurity of communication between the distant capitals and the rest of the provinces, notices which convey uneasiness and alarm are invented and propagated, and some persons more daring still have taken advantage of this to draw the deluded and ignorant into the rebel ranks. I am determined to have the laws obeyed and to make known special means for this disposition, rulings frequently applied during such times as the present, through which the island is now passing, and to make clear, how far certain points go in adapting them to the exigencies of war, and in the use of faculties conceded to me by sec. 12, art. VII of the Code of Military Justice, and by the law of public order of April 23, 1870. And I make known and command that the following causes are subject to military laws, among others specified by law:

Clause 1.—Those who invent or propagate by any means, notices or Assertions favorable to the rebellion shall be considered as being guilty of offenses against the integrity of the nation and comprised in art. CCXXXIII, clause 6 of the Military Code, whenever such notices facilitate the enemy's operations.

Clause 2.—Those who desti by or

The band of Aguerre, numbering 1800, attacked a detachment of troops at Pocho, and five armed volunteers surrendered to them. The leaders Cardenas and Aguerre led an attack on the village of Caribo, in Havana province. The garrison consisted of Capt. Lorenzo and forty voluteers, who offered a heroic resistance to the insurgents and repulsed them, inflicting a loss of two killed, besides seventy-five wounded, which were carried off.
The column of Conde le Seundi fought the insurgents at Buenos Ayres, in the Sancti Spiritus district and captured the camp hospital, making prisoners of the wounded. The police inspector, Trujilo Menegas, who was on the steamer Olivette, preparatory to departing for Fiorida, was detained by the authorities. Leandro Aguerre was also detained on a charge of complicity in furnishing ammunition to the insurgents, having attempted to get away under a false name.

RUMORED SHOOTING OF PRISON-RUMORED SHOOTING OF PRISON-

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—J. J. Mott, chairman of the National Committee of the Silver Party, has issued the following address to the people:

To the People—As chairman of the national committee appointed by the silver conference lately assembled in Washington city to organize the silver forces in the United States in the battle which is to take place for the possession of the government this year, it is thought proper that I should make some statement to the people in reference to it.

As the necessity of money as a medium of exchange became revealed to the minds of men, the two motals finally accepted as the most suitable for money were silver and gold. This was natural, because they were the two most precious metals adapted to the purpose and were sufficiently limited in quantity.

As mining has developed the fact that these two metals existed in the earth in almost certain proportions, a natural ratio of value was assumed. This ratio has continued as arranged by man under the natural order as he found it. It was accepted by mankind as a part of the grand plan upon which the world was to move and approved by the philosophy and common sense of all ages.

From this condition of regular order and contentment, contributing to the gradual elevation of all classes of society, the extension of civilization and the general betterment of the human race, this country and the world has been ruthlessly torn.

It has been done by the rejection of one of the precious metals in the interest of greed, and by this act the money changers have been enthroned and the narrowing of the scope of the monetization began. As monetization has been narrowed, money has become scarcer prices fell in proportion, and falling prices have been the bane of this world. It was predicted after the demonetization of silver that great suffering would follow. This suffering is already here. From a contraction of the currency we are now in the throes of one of these desperate tages of human experience, a period of heartache, canker and sleeplessness, as flection have convinced me that an independent American financial system is absolutely necessary to the restoration of national prosperity and the establishment of commercial conditions in this country, that will give the common people, the agricultural and laboring classes, an equal show with capital and concentrated wealth. How can it be effected? Can it be done through either the Republican or Democratic parties as now constituted? Both organizations are under the blighting influence of the Eastern money power. The record of every national convention of both parties for years is plain proof of the assertion. The legislation of both parties in Congress is proof that it is impossible as a party question.

What then is to be done? As patriots, as Americans who are for America against the world, what is our first and controlling duty in this crisis? Shall we longer submit to the academic discussion of what bimetallism means? Shall it be another campaign of straggling and equivocation? Or shall the issue be squarely on the free colinage of silver and gold and a President elected who represents the people on that question?

The first step, the essential preliminary to the correction of present abuses, the reëstablishment of national prosperity and the maintenance of our national credit, is the election of a President whose Andrew Jackson courage and inflexible integrity will defy the influences that proetitute Presidents and Cabinets and make the administration of the government a subject of humiliation and reproach.

Strong in character and intention as may be the standard-bearer of the Republican or Democratic parties in the coming campaign, it will hardly be possible for him to rise above the influences that secured his nomination, or the environments that must surround him in the event of his election. The one hope of the people, I am convinced, is in the election of a President pledged, unconditionally and unreservedly, to the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold, the same as from the founces that se against the issuance of interest-pearing bonds in time of peace for any purpose whatever.

I appeal not only to Republicans in my own State, who can appreciate the sacrifice I make in renouncing party obligations on this question in advance of party action in the premises, but to the people throughout the country without regard to party, to cooperate in this great non-partisan, patriotic American movement to sustain the industrial and financial independence of the United States in the pending irrepressible conflict.

This sentiment influences me to accept the chalipmanship of the National Silver Party. I shall give to this movement my best services and thought, and, successful or otherwise, I shall realize the satisfaction of having done my duty to the people and to the country as I see and understand it.

In my own State I confidently appeal to the rank and file of both parties to support my efforts. North Carolina is an agricultral State and nine-tenths of its people are directly and disastrously affected by the operation of the single gold standard. I appeal to them to lay aside party feellings, ignore party obligations on this social question, disregard party appeals, forget the expirations of the past party contention and spurn the offer of place and emolument.

We have the example and experience pirations of the past party contention and spurn the offer of place and emolument.

We have the example and experience of the last campagn in New York to show the practicability and safety of men of different parties cooperating to carry out a great measure essential to the welfare of the people, where neither of the parties favoring it could effect it alone. It was a cooperation on one issue, the issue of fair elections. It is now arranged to extend such a plan through all States on another vital issue of even greater importance to this country. No one party can do this, but a majority of the people in all the parties want it done, and they can do it if they will cooperate.

The peril that menaces the people in the election of a President whose administration of the government means a perpetuation of the present financial situation can only be avoided by the people themselves. It may be too late four years hence. Present abnormal conditions do not warrant belief in the peaceful submission of the people to further impoverishment. The gold gambler may deride the popular ebuillition as a system of harmelss "socialism," but if they are wise they will heed the admonition and persist not in their greed of accumulation at the expense of the tolling, suffering people. The plain, patriotic duty of every American who loves and honors his country, who would jealously guard its institutions, who would die for the principles that have made it the greatest, the roudest, the most independent nation on the face of the its institutions, who would die for the principles that have made it the greatest, the richest, the proudest, the most independent nation on the face of the globe, is to assert his manhood and subordinate party success to the country's welfare in the impending conflict. Let us have this metal money restored, and in the proportions found in nature's storehouse and as it existed in Washington's time, when the flag and the Constitution were fresh; and God seemed to speak to the people from an open book.

The men who are for gold stand together, no matter what party they belong to. They have control of both the Republican and Democratic parties. The people in their distress, striking-at entrenched power, knock out first one and then the other party, but no matter which turn is taken, gold is uppermost. The gold leaders are keen, determined men and loyal to the gold standard. Are the silver leaders less determined, less intelligent and less loyal? If they are equal to the others in these qualities, what is the matter with them that they allow victory after victory to be scored against them, and that too when the silver people in the country are in the vast majority?

The people are enraged, and justly so. Must they say, at least to these leaders, "Lo, these many years have we sent you for silver and you have returned to us without it; you are unprofitable servants and have led us through the bog and quagmire of disappointment. We like to honor you, but you must take us by some other road and reach our ido!"

The men who blazed the way for the silver conference did well. The people see the citadel of their libertles and are ready for the battle. The Philistines are at our doors. To your tents, oh, Israel.

agree to a postponement until Friday. Julian would agree to nothing. Connelly then asked him to come ever to El Paso and hold a conference totight. Julian had friends invited to dinner, and dinner would be late. He therefore reluctantly declined for the skind invitation to confer. Some more talk ensued, we to agreement to take ensued to agreement to take ensued. Julian is alsed to come we to El Paso at 18 clock tomore marning and said he yould then decke upon his plan of a tion. He demanded that Maher be bought in from Las Cruces and that he submit to another examination. He is somewhat fearful that Maher's eyes may be getting well more rapidly than reported by his friends and that he will work in several days getting into condition between now and Friday. Connelly objected strongly to bringing Maher to the city, but finally said he would do so if it was absolutely necessary.

"Maher simply cannot fight on Monday," said Connelly. "His eyes are better, but he is not able to endure a strong light, let alone the glare of the sun. I told Julian that it would be of no use for him to claim the forfeit, for if he attempted it I would have Peter at the ringside and prevent him from getting the money. He cannot get any forfeit if Maher appears at the ringside. The articles say that the forfeit can only be claimed if one of the men falls to appear. They do not say that a man must fight in order to prevent the payment of the forfeit. If I have my man at the ringside there is no show for Julian to get any forfeit, and I tell you he will not get th. We will take Maher to the ring, blind as he is, and then refuse to fight. Continuing, Connelly said he would positively refuse to allow Maher to enter the ring in his present condition, or until his eyes are well.

Julian and Fitzsimmons are much until his eyes are well.

Julian and Fitzsimmons are much disgusted over the outlook and have no hesitancy in expressing their opinions. They claim to have been ready at any time during the past month and that the other side has not. They have engagements in the East for the latter part of February and are anxious to keep them. Whatever is the outcome of the conference tomorrow, there is certain to be a warm time while it lasts.

Stuart's confidence is still supreme. He is doing no talking these days, but simply replies to all questions: "I am ready to pull off the fight anytime, and the sooner the men get together the better I will be pleased."

The managers of the fight are confronted with a new obstacle. The portion of the purses subscribed by the citizens of El Paso expires by limitation tomorrow if the fight is not off by that time. Some of the subscription are unpaid and the chances are now that they never will be. All the small fights have been declared off. There never has been strong probability that they would be pulled off, and Barry and Dixon stopped work this morning. There was, for a time, a chance of the Everhardt-Leeds match being brought about, but the management refused to take chances on giving away the secret of their battleground and everybody agrees that one fight will be the limit. As only one can be away the secret of their battleground and everybody agrees that one fight will be the limit. As only one can be had, it was decided that the big one should stand. The management will pay all forfeits on the small fight, $250 to each man, and the fighters are at liberty to go home as soon as they like.

liberty to go home as soon as they like.

Nearly all of the prizefighters went over to Juarez this afternoon to attend the bullfaghts. Four horses, worth about $3 each, were gored to death; four bulls were tortured and stain and the arena was covered with blood. The Mexican, as usual, howled blood. The Mexican, as usual, howled track.

with delight at the spectacle of a borse being ripped open, but the fighters came back disgusted to the last degree. Fitzsimmons, Leeds, Barry, Walcott, Everhadt and Dixon were there, and all of them are still trying to figure out how a people who can tolerate the sickening sight of the bull-pen can object to prizefighting with gloves. "Fighting is golf to this blooming, bloody game," remarked Fitzsimmons in wrath, after he had seen the third bull butchered.

There are very few sporting men left in El Paso now. Al Smith, Jimmy Wakely and a few others are at Hot Springs, thirty-six miles away. The majority of the others have gone away. The Olympic Club of New Orleans has wired Capt. Glori, backer of Horace Leeds, asking if he will consent to have his man meet Everhardt in that city. If the details are satisfactory the fight will be arranged. Everhardt has been slack in training for several days and is now much over weight. Glori was for a time disposed to claim forfeit for Leeds, but finally let it go.

MATCHES FOR NEW YORK.

EL PASO (Tex...) Feb. 16.—O'Rourke for Walcott, and Kenney for "Bright Eyes," tonight agreed to bring off the match between their men at the Lennox Club, New York, on March 8 for the gate receipts. The Barry and Murphy match will take place at the same place in the same month and probably on the same date. If negotiations pending with New Orleans do not materialize Everhardt and Leeds will fight at Maspeth, L. L., in March. It was arranged late tonight that the Dixon-Marshall fight should come off March 17 at Boston.

During the fight one of the horses was disemboweled by a bull, and was alleping around the ring with his entrails hanging out. Fitzsimmons, who agt near the box of Gov. Ahumada, arose, and, walking up to the Governor's interpreters, said: "Ask him how he likes that sort of thing."

The Governor replied that he saw nothing bad about it:

"Well," said Fitzsimmons, "ask him it he thinks fighting with gloves is anywhere near as brutal as this bloody thing he is looking at."

The Governor replied that he did not exactly approve of killing horses, but would say nothing regarding the prizering. Fitzsimmons put several more questions, but the Governor dodged them all, and the fighter went back to his seat denouncing bull, bullfighters and all who approved of them.

immerman Won Nineteen Races and Was Benten Several Times. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16 .- A. A. Zimmerman, the champion professional bicycle racer, who arrived today from Australia; attributes his failure to come back with an unbeaten record to come back with an unbeaten record to the Australian climate. The bioycle racers of that country, he says, do not compare with those of America or England in speed, but no matter how fast a foreign rider may be he cannot expect to win races until he has lived long enough in the country to be acclimated. Parsons, Plether and Walker are the best riders in Australia, but they would stand little chance in this country against our fast men. Another thing that hindered Zimmerman in Australia was the poor tracks. They are generally four laps to the mile and are grassed.

Zimmerman won nineteen races in Australia and was beaten several times, twice at New Castle just before he left. He is well satisfied with the financial result of his trip, as the prizes for races are usually $1000. Great interest is taken in bloycle racing and race meets are attended by from 20,000 to 30,000 people.

meets are attended by from 20,000 to 20,000 people.

Zimmerman was rather reticent about his plans in the United States. He said he had not yet decided whether he would race again. If he did race it would probably be in Paris, where he has a standing offer of $500 a week for one race a week. This, he thinks, would be more profitable than following the circuit in the United States.

Church Finances-Canaanites Were Like Thistles - "Remember the 'Sabbath Day and Keep it Holy"-Church Notes.

The morning service at St. Paul's Church was conducted by the Rt. Rev. Dr. Rowe, bishop of Alaska, who preached the sermon and administered the Holy Communion. The bishop took his text from John 1:35, the announcement by St. John, the Baptist, of the presence of the Christ, and the divine presence of the Christ, and the divine invitation to the questioning disciples to "come and see" where He dwelt and what He taught. Dwelling upon this trenchant invitation, which is typical of the constant invitation of the church to all mankind, the bishop drew the less on from this first approach of our Lord to His great work—the earliest trail of the pathway to the world's re-Lord to His great work—the earliest trail of the pathway to the world's redemption. After the days of temptation in the wilderness, Christ went to His forerunner that He might receive baptism at his hands. John had made a great stir in Palestine, and there were many who thought him the Christ, but he told all who approached that he wassimply a voice erying in the wilderness to all the world to prepare for the coming of the Redeemer, and, at the first glimpse of the Master, he made the thrilling announcement to the multitude: "Behold the Lamb of God, who taketh away the sins of the world."

who taketh away the sins of the world."

The two disciples who sought Jesus, St. Andrew and the beloved St. John himself, were advanced pupils of His great precursor, and they came to Him with minds fully ripe for the divine teaching. His heart-searching question: "What seeks ye?" gets down to the bedrock of all action, and is equally applicable in all ages of the world. The speaker dweit especially upon the necessity of impressing a full understanding of its importance and depth upon the young minds being prepared for the solemn rite of confirmation and the gravity of the immense truths of life and religion which every human soul ought to seek most fervently when it enters the church of Christ.

To the answering question of the disciples: "Where dwellest thou?" Christ replied simply: "Come and see," and it is written that they abode together during all that day. to the Atlantic. It has about 260,000,000 followers. At one time, it seemed destined to destroy Christianity. If Charles, Martel had not succeeded in defeating the Saracens at Poictiers in 732, Europe might have been overrun by the invaders, and we would have been born heirs to Mohammedanism, and not to Christianity, as has been the lot of millions. We should never cease to be grateful to the Ruler of nations, and to our ancestors for our rich and glorious Christian heritage. The prophets of the Old Testament assure use plainly and frequently that national disasters and degeneracies are the natural consequences of sins, corruptions and cowardice. He who reads history must believe this. The Armenians must have sinned against God and man in some awful ways, for their punishments are terrible. If they had had the bravery of the Greeks who conquered Persia. or the valor of the Swiss, or of the English, when the Armada was sent against them, or of the Colonists in this country, who won freedom from England, or of the Scotch Presbyterians, who preferred death to oppression, then the Turks would not today be their masters and mercliess oppressors. Why was Christendom so weak that the Mohammedans were able to crush it? As long as Unitarian Christianity, or the Christianity of Christ, prevailed, such a disaster was impossible; but, when the new heresy arose about a Trimity of pagan character, then Christendom began to be weak. A majority vote at the Council of Nice made the heresy a doctrine. For two centuries afterwards, Christ's religion struggled against pagan invasion and innovation; and then Roman Catholic supremacy came, and then the dark ages came, and christianity sank into an awful lethargy. Then was the opportunity for mono-theistic Mohammedanism to scourge and punish paganized Christianity for rejecting Christ's plain teaching about the unity of God. The Armenian and Mohammedan troubles of today are the outcome of an ancient hatred between Europe and Asia and between two forms of religion. It had begun before which counts is, not what a company of men might do, but what have they done?

"A liberal estimate should be added to such requirements as are in sight. The income of a church or any benevolent institution seldom exceeds the estimate; the outgoes usually do; so the year closes with bills for which there is no money. Another fact exists which requires no discussion: The trustee can pay bills only as far as we furnish the funds. If any organization on earth should go on an essentially cash basis, it is a Christian church. God is not a pauper, that the bills of the people who do business in His name should go at a discount. Is it too much to say that the piety of a church never far exceeds the financial integrity of the membership of a church?

"The sheet which bears the Stars and Stripes in itself is only a strip of bunting, but, as the flag of the nation, it represents the nation's honor in its ample fold. The management of the pecuniary affairs of a church in itself is no more than that of a ferry-boat or a sawmill; but as the business of the church of Christ, it outranks every other transaction in which money is used. It is the world's measure of the cause represented. In hastening the day of the coronation of Christ as Lord of the earth, the right management of church finances, backed by the integrity and manilness of the membership, is ever a mighty impulse to that end. Dealing with the material affairs of a church for the honor of God, that church will have honor and power with God."

CENTRAL PRESBYTERIAN.

At the regular service of the Central Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Mr. Miller of Quincy, Ill., preached from Exodus xxiii, 30, "By little and little I will drive them out from before thee." The Canaanites were like thistles in a garden; they not only occupied ground that could be put to much better purpose; they were actively bad. All who came in contact with them were hurt. They stung like the stabbing of a nettle. They were not only of no positive good, but were positively bad. God proposed to drive them out of Canaan, that He might give the land to His children, the Israelites, and in the language of the text, tells how He proposed to do it.

The slow method is His method of doing everything. His wheels of judgment crush slowly.

He is never in a hurry for He could have created the world in a day, but He took an age to lay each geologic strata; a hundred years to bring a tree to full growth, but nowhere do we find Him in a hurry.

As marvelous as is His love, still more so is His pattence.

Man may fret, and chafe his environment, but God is infinite composure. His perfect equilibrium is never disturbed.

To get the best out of our lives we must fall into harmony with His plan. It is so with our spiritual life. I would have you sanctified at a stroke, but it is by a different method we become saints. It takes years to get out of the nursery, more years to grow into manhood, then years of effort, struggle, suffering and study to become rounded.

saints. It takes years to get out of the nursery, more years to grow into manhood, then years of effort, struggle, suffering and study to become rounded out into the full maturity of our lives. Your conversion may have been sudden, but your growth must be slow, inch by inch, step by step. Man goes to the bad in the same way. Habits grow on us, little by little. A dinner and a drink, a jovial companionship and another drink, a headache and a drink, is the road to a drunkard's grave.

him chained hand and foot, heart and brain.

The same rule applies in our efforts to convert the world to Christianity, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature," is God's way; civilization will not do the work. It is by the preaching of the gospel that the nations are to be won into the fold of Christ. There is no better way.

Lovers of music who live in the central part of the city enjoy the music of the new quartette. A hymn of Isaac Watts to music of Gounod's, arranged by Emerson, was the special feature of the day.

palm for every wounded soul. In the riches of the Savior's love there is grace for every one.

FIRST CHRISTIAN.

Rev. A. C. Smither preached yesterday morning to a full house at the First Christian Church upon "Sanctiff cation," from the words "Sanctiff them through Thy truth; Thy word is truth." "This is from the prayer of Jesus, and is, therefore, worthy of our consideration," said the speaker.

In setting forth the meaning of sanctification, the speaker said that its fundamental idea was that of dedication, separation, setting apart to a holy use or purpose. This is proved by the fact that it is applied to things, and is not, therefore, necessarily possessed of moral attributes. This is further proved from the fact that Jesus was sanctified, and it could mean nothing further in His case than separation or dedication of His life to the world's redemption.

The means by which sanctification is effected is the word of God, which is the record of the will of God. This word is heard, believed, obeyed, and results in separating its adherents in conduct, life and character from those who refuse allegiance to its requirements. Sanctification is thus begun in conversion and is process or growth continuing through life.

The great need of a higher and deeper consecration among Christians is most evident. There should be a distinct line of demarcation between the followers of Christ and those who are indifferent to the will of God. Christians are Christ's ambassadors, or representatives in the world, and should deport themselves in accordance with this high profession. This high ideal should apply to them in their conduct in all the affairs of life. They should use their talents for the extension of the cause of Christian progress and work. All of the Christian progress and work. All of the Christian progress and work. All of the Christian is prepared for the presence and glory of God in the higher life in the future.

At the conclusion of the sermon there were several accessions to the church, On next Sunday evening t

SIMPSON TABERNACLE.

The Sunday morning service at Simpson Tabernacle was largely attended. Rev. C. C. McLean, D.D., pastor of the son Tabernacle was largely attended. Rev. C. C. McLean, D.D., pastor of the church, preached an excellent sermon from Daniel xil, 3, "And they that be wise shall shine as the firmament, and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars forever and ever." The speaker said, in part: Daniel, in disobeying the decree of the monarch of Babylon, and honoring the God of Israel, had been cast into a lion's den; but by being true to his convictions he gained favor with the monarch, who gave him high position and reward for his courage. In the text those who succeed in saving their own souls and those of others are designated wise. The predominating thought in the world today is to gain wealth, and he who succeeds is wise. Daniel places a higher standard of wisdom for our guidance; we may estimate the wisdom of soul-saving by the price paid for its redemption, and then consider whether its saving is wise. Ambition as practiced by our first parents in the garden was sin, for it led them to disobey their Creator. The ambition we exercise for the cause of Christ and the church He established is a commendable ambition. The cultivation of a obey their Crestor. The ambition we exercise for the cause of Christ and the church He established is a commendable ambition. The oultivation of a righteous ambition has been encouraged in us by God and His prophets. He has endowed us with faculties; a breadth of vision, that we may take in the grand scope of nature. science and art, as well as the spiritual scope that leads up to the goal. He hath breathed upon us His Holy Spirit that we might know what will honor and glorify Him; that we may appreciate what will redound to the good and blessing of others. He has given us a laudable ambition to spread this blessed gospel and send it to all lands. As wonderful as have been the discoveries and appliances of science, above them all stands out preëminently the wonderful glory of soul-saving; which was made possible by Him who come and died that this might be possible. John saw a great multitude, whom he said had come up through great tribulation. Today, as in Armenia, the followers of the Lord Jesus are coming up through great tribulation and sacrifice. And we should feel that we need to make sacrifice; though it costs us much to do our part in this great plan of soul-saving; only twenty-five feet. So Christ is real

FIRST ENGLISH LUTHERAN.

The services yesterday were attended by unusually large audiences both morning and evening. At both Rev. C. W. Heisler of Denver, Col., preached the sermon. Preclous memories were revived both on the part of Rev. Heisler, who spent six years of faithful service in establishing this congregation, and on the part of the people. The subject of the morning discourse was "The Power of the Holy Spirit." The sermon was preached from Acts, i. 8: "But ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you." The speaker first defined power by illustrations of physical, intellectual and spiritual power. The highest form of power is spirit-power. Following this, the speaker proceeded to discuss first, the secret of power. It was shown that the ponderous engine is no more than so much iron until there is added to it a force that will set it in motion. The electric car stands motionless upon the track until the unseen force that we call electricity passes along the wire. In the final analysis, when forced we call electricity passes along the wire. In the final analysis, when forced to answer what this unseen force really is, the scientist is forced to say he does not know. So mankind needs a power from above that shall set in motion the possibilities of man's being. The speaker then proceeded to discuss the result of the Holy-Spirits power. That power, operating through the word of God. makes of han a new creature. Illustrations of this were drawn from the work of Dr. Chapman, and from the Door of Hope Mission for Fallen Women in New York City. That power is within the reach of all. We need not pray for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit, the speaker said. The Holy Spirit is here. We should resign ourselves to Him and submit to His leading.

The sermon was forceful and timely and thoroughly appreciated by an attentive audience.

EAST SIDE CHURCHES.

EAST SIDE CHURCHES.

"Abide in Me and I in You," was the text chosen by Rev. George E. Dye at the East Los Angeles Baptist Church Sunday morning. The speaker said that "Christ was unique in many things." His character and teachings were peculiar to Himself. No other teacher ever approaches this character, and the "Sermon on the Mount" stands superior to all other teachings. But the personality of Christ is the most remarkable feature of all teachings. He emphasised the ego and taught not only that He was "the bread of life," but that He was "the vine," and men as branches must abide in Him. His personality is unique. Take away Wesley from Methodism and it will stand; take away Mohammed from Mohammedism and it will, stand, but Christianity without Christ is like an arch without a keystone. It demands the person. Consequently other religions may perish as their leaders perish, but Christianity can not die because its leader never can die. Not in the religion of Zoroaster, not in the religion of Isis or Osaris in mysterious Egypt, nor the Roman Gods is there to be found a parallel to the teachings, character or personality of Christ. Then consider the love of God! He set forth a love so full of grandeur, dignity and pathos. The personality of great leaders like Washington and Lincoin were touched upon by the speaker EAST SIDE CHURCHES.

BOY SHOT A BURGLAR.

ATTEMPT TO ROB THE HOUSE OF DR. J. H. DAVISSON.

The Doctor's Fifteen-year-old Son Put the Nocturnal Prowler to Flight with His Trusty Win-chester Rifle.

Detectives were on the still hunt yes terday for a burglar who is supposed to have a freshly-bored bullet-hole somewhere about his anatomy, due to the unerring aim of young Woodford Davisson, son of Dr. J. H. Davisson. Dr. Davisson lives at No. 1442 Pleasant avenue, Boyle Heights, in a com-fortable two-story house. Dr. and Mrs. Davisson's bedroom is upstairs, and their fifteen-year-old son, Woodford, sleeps in a room adjoining. The lad is fond of hunting and is a good shot with a rifle. His favorite weapon is a 22-calibre Winchester, which his father recently presented him. The boy is so fond of the gun that he sleeps with it within reach of his hands, remarking when he first placed it near his bed that it would come handy to shoot burglars with.
It did come handy Saturday night, when the plucky boy improved the first opportunity of his life to shoot a real live burglar.

It appears that some nocturnal prowler with burglary in his heart, went to the Davisson residence about I o'clock Sunday morning and with the aid of a step-ladder which he found in the barn, climbed to the top of the rear porch. Next he broke a slat out of the wooden shutter of the window of young Woodford Davisson's bedroom, reached in and unfastened the catch with which the shutter was fastened. The shutter opened, he was in the act of raising the window sash, when the boy awoke. Seeing the man at the window, the youth selzed his trusty rifie, and, without pausing to ask any questions, he blazed away at the intruder.

The fellow made a wild scramble for terra firma, after the shot, and when Dr. Davisson and his son reached the outside of the house, all the trace of the burglar they could find was the broken shutter, the step-ladder and some pleces of paper containing fresh bloodstains. The paper had the appearance of having been used to wipe the blood from a freshly-inflicted wound. The burglar was undoubtedly hit, but was probably not seriously hurt.

The police were notified yesterday morning, but so far have failed to catch the culprit.

A remarkable thing about the affair is that the boy by the flash of the gun got a good view of the would-be burglar's face and identified him as a man who called at the house Saturday afternoon and asked for a drink of

He Stands Peerless and Alone as the Greatest Magnetic Healer of ModernTimes.

Dispensing Health on Every Hand-Startling Results of Magnetism in Saving Human Life.

Chronic Diseases Daily Cured Which Have Always Resulted in Death-Coming from Miles Around to be Healed by the Boy Wizard.

And still the God-like work of healing the sick—snatching from the very brink of the grave, as it were, those who had been given up as incurable by all other treatment—goes bravely on. Day after day scores of our most prominent, en-lightened and cultured citizens may be iightened and cukured clizens may be seen entering and leaving the parlors of the Boy Wizard at the Magnetic Institute, corner Third and Broadway. thus showing by their presence that vital magnetism, such as possessed by the Boy Wizard, has secured a firm hold on the more intelligent of our population.

A person who can yield such an influence in a community so intellectual as Los Angeles is certainly no ordinary man. He stands like a tower above, and over, all other healing agencies. Wonderfully gifted by nature with a physique most powerful, he stands peerless and alone, the acknowledged leader, possessing the greatest magnetic powers ever bestowed upon a human being, having an illustrious history with an unbroken succession of His magnetism is so strong and subtle in its effects that he cures the most difficult cases of malignant types of chronic diseases in both his public exhibitions and private practice, often by a single treatment. He stands unapproached and unapproached, meeting with the most signal and surprising success after all others have failed, without a compeer in the dazzling noontide of his brilliant career. The light of the marvelous cures he has accomplished in Los Angeles are indeed a revelation to the sick and dying, astonishing to the most incredulous, and converting the rankest skeptic to his most enthusiastic follower. He causes the physician and philosopher to stand aloof and wonder and marvel in silent envy at his miraculous success in quickly curing diseases which they had pronounced incurable, after exhausting their skill with old-time remedies.

By this marvelous power and gift of healing, with which so few men are endowed, he cures the deaf, blind, and all diseases of the head, throat, lungs, heart, liver, kidneys, and nervous system, vitalizes and drives all impurities from the blood. He is especially successful in all forms of paralysis, epilepsy, dropsy, diabetes, Bright's disease, tumors and cancers—even of the stomach and womb—surpassing anything ever attempted or conceived of in the healing art.

Nobody can form any opinion of his wonderful and phenomenal cures unless they actually witness them. Hundreds of people who have been bedridden for months and years, and others who have not taken a step without crutches, suffering with rheumatism, paralysis and other diseases, have been, and are daily being cured by him and restored to perfect health.

These are facts and each heacetime. in its effects that he cures the most difficult cases of malignant types of Bryant, chief medical adviser of the Pacific Coast Magnetic Institute, corner Third and Broadway, are open daily from 10 am. to 4 p.m., and 7 to 8 evenings, for the reception of those who desire to investigate the merits of this treatment. If desirous, they may obtain examination, consultation and advice by the physician in charge, who has the rare faculty of diagnosing your disease without asking a single question, simply by looking at the eye, telling you every symptom, ache, pain or disagreeable feeling and if curable at all, pointing out a sure, speedy and permanent cure. The price of treatment is within the reach of all. But those who desire treatment by the Boy Wizard must first obtain an appointment with the secretary at the reception parlors of the institute, as his time is nearly all taken up in treating those who have made previous appointments.

William P. Fennell, street rallway conductor, living at 5361 Patton avenue, St. Louis, said, when interviewed: "I don't know how I would get along if it wasn't for Ripans Tabules. We men here on the road are always in such a 'hustle' and get so little time to eat and have to swallow our food so quickly, no wonder we have dyspepsia. I know I suffered with it for nearly two years before I got 'onto' the Tabules, and I was in misery all the time. I constantly had pains in my stomach and chest and a dizzy feeling about my head. My bowels didn't work regularly and I felt 'mean' all the time. I saw Ripans Tabules advertised so much I bought some, and after taking them for a month felt like a new man. I have a boy who was troubled with indigestion and gave some to him. Now neither of us have any more trouble."

Ripans Tabules are sold by druggists or by mail if the price (60 cents a box) is sent to The Ripans Chemical Company, No. 10 Spruce st, New York, Sample vial, 10 cents.

POSTOFFICE NEEDS.

MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION WILL URGE SOME IMPROVEMENT.

Letter Sent to the Department at Washington Tells Some Foreible Truths—The City of Los Angeles Requires Better Service.

The Merchants' Association, through its secretary, William H. Knight, has addressed to F. H. Jones, First Assistant Postmaster-General, at Washington, a strong letter calling attention to the fact that Los Angeles has outgrown the post-office facilities afforded the the postoffice facilities afforded the city long ago. The letter said: "The merchants and manufacturers of this city are subjected to great inconvenience and pecuniary loss arising from fnadequate accommodations and service at the postoffice. At a meeting of the Merchants' Association of Los Angeles held February 7, 1896, the secretary was instructed to collate the facts and invite your attention to our grievance, and earnestly urge your department to provide for immediate relief.

"According to approximate estimates of our population made by officers of the School Department, by publishers of the City Directory, and by the postmaster of Los Angeles, the number of people residing within our city limits is between 90,000 and 100,000. If we add the thickly-settled adjacent neighborhoods soon to be annexed, the aggregate will undoubtedly exceed the latter figure.

gate will undoubtedly exceed the latter figure.

"For this large population, the business center of an extensive region rapidly filling up with prosperous communities, we have postal facilities about equal to what would be required for a city of 40,000 inhabitants.

"We not only require increased accommodations for present necessities, but our rapid growth demands still larger provision for the immediate future.

"When it is borne in mind that the annual erection of dwellings for actual occupation has increased since 1890 at the rate of about 40 per cent, each year over the previous year, until in 1895 the number reached 1664, still leaving a scarcity for rental purposes; that, in addition to these, some 300 substantial store, office and hotel buildings have been erected on business streets, it is manifest that greatly-increased service is required in the postoffice.

"The imperative need for eleven new schoolhouses which has been met during the past year, and the extensive enlargement of several others, still further attest the genuineness and rapidity of our growth.

"Every winter an increasing tide of tourist travel pours into Southern California to escape the rigors of northern and eastern climates. These, to the number of many thousands, make their temporary home in Los Angeles for days, weeks, months, and often the entire season, and they not only make extra demands on the window clerks, but they keep the registry and moneyorder departments busy.

"Furthermore, Los Angeles is the business, financial, commercial and rallway center of a population in Southern California exceeding a quarter of a million, and of a still wider scope of country beyond its borders, comprising Southern Nevada, Arizona and Northern Mexico, all containing rich, but only partially-developed resources in agriculture, horticulture, precious minerals and useful metals.

"Of this large territory in the Southwest, Los Angeles is the emporium and metropolis, and her business and social intercourse is intimate and incessant throughout the entire region. Her merchants are supplying the wares of a busy mart, and in return are receiving the products of the soil and the mines. An interruption of that intercourse not only harms the merchant but it inflicts a wrong upon the community. "If these considerations are not sufficient to stimulate the authorities at Washington to activity in our behalf, then we beg to put forth one rrore plea. We are a and of receiving goods to the con-sumer.

"We have thus shown that as a mat-ter of revenue and economy to the Postal Department, as well as of justice to the merchant and the community, the government should enlarge its postal facilities and increase its service in the Los Angeles office, without de-lay.

lay.

"We have addressed communications of same tenor to United States Senator Stephen M. White and to United States Representative James McLachlan."

THE PAVING OF MAIN STREET.

The question of paving Main street will again come before the Council today. Property-owners on that street are very anxious that work should be commenced as soon as possible on an improvement that has been so long de-

It is over a year since bids were called for paving Main street, but a certain variety of asphalt was specified, to which action the property-owners properly objected. Then the Council, careful investigation, adopted specifications for asphalt paving based on those of the United States government. Bids were again called for. The successful bidder made the price so low that when it came to furnishing bonds he fell down. Again bids have been presented, and a discussion has commenced, which threat ens a further postponement of work on Main street need never have forfeited the position it once held as the leading business thoroughfare of the city if property-owners along the street had shown the same enterprising and progressive spirit that has characterized their fellow-citizens on Spring street and Broadway during the past ten or twelve years. With the paving of the street for its entire length, and the inauguration of a modern car sys tem, Main street will again come to the front, and values of property will be more on an equality with those ruling on the other leading business thoroughfares.

In an undertaking of such magnitude the Council is right in taking all reasonable precautions to fully satisfy itself that the price is reasonable, that the city is amply protected and that the work, as it progresses, is in every respect up to the specifications. These points being assured, the propertyowners have a right to ask that there shall be no further unnecessary delay in commencing work on an improvement for which a majority of them have petitioned and which should have been

BURY.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—The Daily News, LONDON, Feb. 17.—The Daily News, in an editorial, regrets that such a grave subject as Venezuela had not been raised by a more influential man than L. Atherly Jones, the Radical member who moved an amendment expressing the regret of the assurance that the Venezuela boundary dispute would be submitted to arbitration. "No Liberal wishes to pick a quarrel with Lord Salisbury over Penezuela," the Daily News continues; "therefore it is impossible the House of Commons should adopt the Jones amendment, It would be a virtual vote of censure, which would, in the present case, be unpatriotic. The country would, we hope, welcome from Mr. Balfour an announcement of a general arbitration, with a proviso that, in the event of award going against us, England should purchase the settled districts."

ANYTHING BUT FIGHT.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—A call signed by Mayor Strong, Bishop Henry Potter, Benjamin Bristow, ex-Judge Charles H. Daly, Seth Low and William E. Dodge, has been sent to a number of prominent men in this city, looking toward the formation of a committee to further the movement now in progress in England and in this country for the establishment of a permanent court of arbitration to settle all disputes arising between the United States and Great Britain.

The call says: "Simultaneous movements in Chicago, Philadelphia and other places to consider the appointment of a high court of arbitration between Great Britain and the United States indicates how widespread is the desire in this country to reach a peaceful settlement of such questions between Great Britain and ourselves as diplomacy falls to adjust. It is proposed to ask fifty representative citizens of New York and Brooklyn to form a committee which shall coöperate with similar committees in other cities in calling a meeting to be held in Washington to take such action as will best further this object."

WARLIKE COMMENT.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—A dispatch to the World from Caracas, Venezuela, says that the story of an English vessel taking soundings at the mouth of the Orinoco provokes much warlike comment. The people of Ciudad Bolivar, the capital of Guiana, says the vessel is there for the purpose of determining whether warships are needed to hold the Orinoco, which is Venezuela's strong strategic point.

The government has been warned that, as England is increasing her force of men and cannon at the stations on the Amacuro and Cuyuni rivers, the latest movement menaces the integrity of the nation. The press says now is the time to teach England's arrogance a lesson.

the time to teach England's arrogance a lesson.

The suggestion to arbitrate the Uruan incident meets opposition here. It is believed that the jurisdiction of the disputed territory should be settled first; otherwise it would be an admission of British sovereignty. Public opnion is averse to treating with England direct on the Gulana boundary matter. The feeling is that Yenezuela should manifest its gratitude and courtesy to the United States by awaiting the effect of the boundary commission. It is pointed out that when Venezuela was alone England never considered its desires for a reactful settlement and that she only regards it now through fear of the United States. The Board of Directors of the English railway between Barcelona and Guanta has been ordered to resume traffic in obedience to an order from the Minister of Public Works.

Venezuela Commission Playing a Waiting Game.

Yankee Ingenuity Exerted in the Bond Buy.

The Southern Grapes Now Turnet Sour for Mr. Reed to be Har-vested by McKinley-Bril-

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES WASHINGTON, Feb. 10, 1896.-In com mon with other correspondents. I was misled by a report that the Venezuelan Commission could not prosecute their researches with funds on hand. The report was true, but it did not mean that the appropriation of $100,000 was exhausted. Only $10,000 of the sum exhausted. has as yet been passed to the credit of the commission. Judge Brewer states that the silver pitchers are plated, and that the force has been overestimated. There have been 700 applicants for positions, of whom seven have been employed and the rest are have been employed and the rest are waiting.

Another meeting will be held next Friday at which a number of maps and rare books and documents received will be examined.

It is known that a great many valuable papers have been offered the commission and a book has been prepared at the expense of the Venezuelan government through its minister here. The commission has been most severely criticised. Nothing has been accomplished since it was organized, so far as can be discerned by the public. Judge Brewer is one of the hardest working men ever on the Supreme bench, and he has not abated his zeal in judicial duties. Mr. Coudert has a practice that requires his entire time practice that requires his entire tim and he very naturally is not neglecting t. The other members are men of It. The other members are men or affairs and their time is fully occupied. No word has been received from either the English or the Venezuelan governments and none is expected for some time. It is scarcely probable that Venezuela will be visited during governments and none is expected for some time. It is scarcely probable that Venezuela will be visited during the heated term, and charges are openly made that President Cleveland did not intend that the matter should be settled or a report made before the election. Sitting as a court of inquiry only, summoning such men as possessed knowledge of the question, and comparing all of the maps and surveys known to exist, having sessions similar to those of the Interstate Commerce Commission, requesting briefs and arguments from both countries, the entire matter could be determined so far as existing evidences are concerned in a month, and if a new and independent survey is desired, the engineers should be at work now.

The evidence is all documentary, and Venezuela would gladly furnish all that exists. In fact, it is here in Washington now, and the Venezuelan Minister is ready to try the question. The commission is fully competent; in fact, a better one in point of ability of the men comprising it could scarcely have been selected; but the Supreme Court of the United States would not need as many employés as are deemed necessary for the commission with one boundary case to try.

The reason the public is growing impatient is that the existence of the commission constitutes a constant menace to business. It was universally approved of, but, the public wants it to decide the question submitted to it at the earliest possible date. Until it does millions of dollars will be lost every month by reason of the uncertainty prevailing in the English and American markets, so closely allied. No one expects war, but should the decision of the commission be in favor of Venezuela, what is the latter country going to do about it, and how far will the United States be involved? These are questions that cannot be answered, and while they remain unsolved problems, there will be a lack of United States be involved? These are questions that cannot be answered, and while they remain unsolved problems, there will be a lack of confidence in the stability of affairs upon the part of investors, while a great deal of foreign capital that would otherwise be invested here, will remain at home.

Should the present plan be carried out there is no prospect of a report for a year at least, and meanwhile business will suffer. The reason for the report that the commission is purposely de-laying the investigation by claiming that a large amount of preliminary work has to be done the nature of which is uncertain, it being a question of boundary like any other question of boundary, and no judge ever yet found preliminary work necessary before he boundary, and no judge ever yet round preliminary work necessary before he heard such a case, is that the special message of President Cleveland caused a financial flurry. If, then, the decision is favorable to Venezuela, there would be a much more serious crisis, and the administration does not want such a calamity to occur before the election.

Yankee ingenuity was never better illustrated than in the recent sale of bonds. The scheme is just coming to light, and it is remarkable that there illustrated than in the recent sale of bonds. The scheme is just coming to light, and it is remarkable that there were not more men earliched. It was of course well known that the value of the bonds on the market would be from $1.16 to $1.18 at the start, and they are quoted today at $1.17. By a singular oversight no security whatever was required from the bidders; the veriest pauper could bid on a million follars worth of bonds. It was safe, as no money was required before February 15. Hence a number of men whose financial standing will not bear investigation, sent in their bids for large amounts. The story is told of one in New York whose office furniture was advertised for sale to satisfy an execution for $100. He bid $1.12 on $1.000,000, and a bank gave him $100,000 and took the contract off his hands.

All that was necessary was for the individual to put in his bid and complacently await results. He had everything to gain and nothing to lose. If he succeeded in getting an award, he had a week in which to dispose of them. If he did so, the profits were large, if not, nothing was lost.

It is true, the government retained the right to reject any and all bids, and several bids for large amounts were rejected in this way because they were palpably offers from irresponsible cranks. But out of a list of nearly five thousand bidders it was impossible to detect all of the irresponsible ones, especially where they were from financial centers.

Wherever the government has offered to public eompetition the contracts for public works of any kind it has been the rule of the Treasury Department to require each offer to be accompanied by certified checks, but nothing of the kind was done in this case and practically nothing was required except the ability to make out the proposal.

The people of the United States, and especially those of California, are interested in the various bills introduced in Congress to restrict immigration. While Congressman Bartholdt, who is himself of foreign birth, retains his position as chairman of the committee, the chances of such a bill becoming a law are very slender. The bill introduced by Congressman Johnson of California is dead, and the hopes of those opposed to the influx of criminal, vicious, or destitute foreigners, are looking to the Stone bill for relief. If pro-

States, and would admittedly be difficult to enforce, but it is considered as far superior to the present law, and there is a possibility that it will become a law, although the chances might be much more favorable.

The change of tactics concerning the southern delegates is amusing. Last fall, when I ventured to suggest that Mr. Reed would not receive the votes of all southern delegates, I was overwhelmed with a series of emphatic protests. The trip made by Maj. Mc-Kinley through the South was laughed at, and the claims of Reed's adherents was that he would receive every vote south of Mason and Dixon's line.

I visited the Southern States but a short time before, and fearned that the old-time leaders, who held ascendancy by means of the negro vote, were for Reed, and that they were pursuing the tactics they had ever since the war. I also discovered that a majority of the Republicans were new to the faith.

Reed, and that they were pursuing the tactics they had ever since the war. I also discovered that a majority of the Republicans were new to the faith. The South no longer depends upon cotton, but the people recognize that it is as a manufacturing and not as an agricultural section, that the hopes of the future rest. They have, therefore, turned from Democracy to Republicanism, upon the tariff question. They need protection for their industries, they need it more than do the New England States, because the industries are new and must be fostered. But while they have embraced Republicanism they have always banded together to keep a white man's government in face of the fact that a majority of the voters are black, and they allowed the leaders to do their usual shouting while they went to work, and the result is nearly a solid southern delegation for McKinley.

Now the Reed papers are saying that the grapes are sour, and are instancing the fact that every candidate who ever relied upon the southern voted did so to his sorrow, and was defeated in the convention. This has been true in times past, for two reasons, that the leaders and their ignorant followers have been usreliable, and that the South furnishes no electoral votes and had no influence in the convention.

This year the old leaders have been discarded and a very much better class of delegates will go from the South than were ever seen from that section in a national Republican convention, and instead of furnishing no electoral votes the party expects to capture several of them, with most excellent chances in Alabama Thenessee Ken.

and instead of furnishing no electoral votes the party expects to capture several of them, with most excellent chances in Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky, North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland. The chance in Alabama comes from the fact that Kolb, while he has not been able to take the governor's chair, has caused thousands to bolt the Democratic party, and Joe Johnston, disgusted at his repeated fallures to obtain the gubernatorial nomination, has founded a party of his own, that has many supporters. This leaves the way open for Gen. Burke, who will, in all probablity, be the Republican nominee for Gevernor, and whom it looks as though they, would probably elect.

So that while the southern grapes have proved very sour in times past, they are sweet now. This is the first

So, that while the southern grapes have proved very sour in times past, they are sweet now. This is the first year they have ever ripened, and Mc-Kinley's friends are jubilant over the prospects of the crop.

Not Care So Much for Their Mon-arch as for Their Taro Patches. The Samoan Rebellion a Dend Issue-Heat in Australia

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES) SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—(Special Dispatch.) Advices received from Aus-Dispatch.) Advices received from Australia by the steamer Monowai tell of unprecedented heat that for more than two weeks has been scorching the colonles, Many deaths were caused by sunistroke, horses dropped in the streets, and in the agricultural districts stock died by the hundreds in the fields. Grapes were cooked on the vires. fields. Grapes were cooked on the vines and all the green crops were almost ruined. The damage to grain was heavy, already the light yield being lessened by "shelling out." The tem-perature for days ranged from 100 to 122 deg. Fahr, in the shade. Bush and field fires served to increase the damage, and dense clouds of smoke made the heat more intense. In many sec-tions the springs and wells were drying up and a water famine was imminent The warm weather began about January 5, and when the steamer sailed there had been little improvement.

In Sydney some business places where a large number of work people were employed, business might as well have been suspended, as the heat was so enervating that the employes could not work. On public and private building contracts in many instances a similar condition of affairs existed, and in some foundries a four-hours' spell was ordered. At Bourke, large numbers of cattle and sheep perished for lack of water. The ground resembled a desert, as not a speck of grass was to be seen. Bush fires swept large sections, and in places bands of horses and stock were hemmed in by the flames and perished. Farmers were unable to work during the day, so as soon as the moon rose at night the laborers took to the fields to saye what was left of the blasted crops. At Melongong the situation was terrible. Many wells and tanks went dry and water had to be hauled from springs. At Perth. West Australia, the tem perature was 117 deg. Five persons died of heat and the water supply was or-dered shut off between certain hours to prevent waste. People slept by hun-January 13, when the mercury reached 108 deg. This was the warmest day in the history of the colony. In the city business was nearly at a standstill, and many horses died of sunstroke. The city employes washed down the business streets in an endeavor to lower the tempereature. In the inte-rior the effects of the heat were disastrous. At Goulbawn several children died. At Bourke the thermometer reg-istered 117 deg., and ten deaths occurred. Cattle fell in the fields by hundreds and died for want of water. Many other places reported crops ruined and much stock lost.

An unusual feature of the act wave was that it was felt nearly 200 miles at sea. The incoming American steamer reported that she ran into a wave of fire far from this coast. Another un-usual manifestation was the high wind which prevailed much of the time, reaching a velocity in places of fifty three miles. While the heat was wors in New South Wales, it was also felt

A Dangerous "Stag" Shot in the San Rafael Mountains.

(San Bernardino Times-Index.) For the past nine years there have been a coupe of "stags." as the mountaineers call frem, ranging from the San Rafael Mountains back into the Santa Cruz These animals are in reality crazy steers of colossal size, chased out of all the herds by the rest of the bands of cattle, and forced to range alone. They do not go together, and their cumbing at eiuding capture by either man or wilder beasts, is extreme. No hunter has been able to get within range of them, over in those precipitous brush lined and rock-dammed gorges. So the animais, really insane, for insanity sometimes occurs in the lowe: animal world, have gone free all these years. They will not approach where people are but they watch camps, and have citen taided and destroyed these in the absence of the owners. And, too, if they are "treed" in some mountain cul de sac, they are then extremely feared by the mountain folks. But week before last Hank Stewart, who lives on the Cuchuma, found his camp destroyed, and the tracks of one of the "stags" indicated the cause.

Mr. Stewart knew the tracks, for they are enormous, over thirts in inches long by about eleven inches wide. He got his rifle, mounted his cayues and traced the marauder over seventy miles, clear back to the head of Sants

There in a narrow gorge, with but one means of ingress or egress, he found the "stag." Turning his horse loose he got on a big rock, and, after a good aim, fired. The ball maddened the animal, which charged, and received a second ball between the horns in the spinal marrow. This killed it, and it dropped like a stone. What May be Expected in Municipal Circles Today.

The City Council will today discuss the adoption of an ordinance prohibiting the holding of meetings on the busings the holding of meetings on the business streets of the city. The Land Committee, of which Councilman Savage is chairman, has been preparing such an ordinance, and will report to the Council today in the matter. The committee will recommend that street meetings be prohibited on Main, Spring and Broadway streets from Temple to Seventh streets. It is not probable that the ordinance will be adopted in this form. The Water Supply Committee's report as prepared and published last week, recommending a horizontal reduction of 331-3 per cent. of the rates now charged by the City Water Company will come before the Council today for adoption. No opposition to the report has been discovered in the Council, and none is likely to be. The water company may have its attorney, excity Attorney McFarland, before the Council to protest against such action be. 18 taken but no certain information of its intentions can be obtained.

THE CERIS.

THE SAVAGES OF TIBURON ARE CHRONIC MOVERS.

er Little Huts Shingled with Mammoth Turtle Shells—Buoyant Canoes Built of Siender Canes— Supporting the Mother-in-law to Win a Bride.

When S. C. Millard of this city came back to civilisation after his voyage to the island of Tiburon, down in the Gulf of California, where he had gone with a party of scientists from the Smithsonian Institution to investigate the Ceris, he brought a quantity of interesting things to tell back with him.

When the explorers reached Tiburon, the first thing they did was to hunt for the Ceris. They hunted high and low, far up on the mountain peaks, 4000 feet above the sea, and deep in the thickets of the valleys that sloped downward to the glistoning white beaches, but never a Ceri was to be found. There were plenty of traces of the savages, however.

Every here and there the party found a little rancheria—a gathering of seven or eight huts grouped close together. These huts looked much like an Indian wigwam. To build a hut the Ceris cut a number of long poles, stick one end in the ground, and bend the other end over to meet the other poles. When this framework is done the Ceris cover it over with closely-woven branches. Sometimes they take the shells of the monster turties which frequent the beaches of the island and cover the hut with them, lapping them over each other like shingles. This kind of a roof sheds the rain beautifully and has a very ornate appearance, but the smell is enough to a contract the like shingles. This kind of a roof sheds the rain beautifully and has a very ornate appearance, but the smell is enough to the like should be the like so to the neighborhood. But the like so to the meighborhood. But the like so to the ways so in roof sheds the rain beautifully and has a very ornate appearance, but the smell is enough to drive all the fles out of the neighborhood. But the Coris don't mind a little thing like a both medis are said by the Mexicans who live around Hermosillo to always go in parties of about a dozen on the move, seldom staying in one spot more than a week. Thus there are rancherias all over the island, one rancheria being occupied only a small part of the time. First a band of Ceris visit one of its mountain villas and stays there till the deer and mountain goats have all been scared away. Then the family moves to its summer home on some beach where there are plenty of oysters, clams, lobsters, etc. Then the party visits its farmhouse in some sheltered valley where wild berries, nuts, fruits, etc., abound.

Several times Prof. McGee's party found a rancheria whence the inhabitants had fied in such haste that they had not had time to gather up all their belongings. There would be all sorts of crude pottery, pots for cooking meats, Jars bound round with thongs cut from the hide of some innocent little calf the shad and begate-old and prepared and bright-colored arow-points, pretty shells and bright-colored arow-po times. They take the precaution, however, of killing the two former before attempting the passage.

As to their character, opinions differ. As far as their relations with each other go, they could give leasons to white men. They always aid and assist each other in difficulty, never steal from each other and are far above most savages in their family relations. When a Ceri youth wishes to wed a Ceri damsel, he sends his parents to act as gobetweens. If the girl's relations approve his suit, they give him permission to try to win her. To do this he must support the whole female side of the damsel's house for two years, and show his willingness and ability to supply his prespective mother-in-law with oysters, venison, fish, burro, etc., in unlimited quantities.

But en the other hand the Ceris will rob and murder the Papagos, Yaquis, and white men on every possible opportunity. They will not fight if they can run, but when they do st to they do it like furies. Tiburon is the center of their domain, but the Ceris also infest the mountains between Hermostilo and the Gulf of California, wandering there in such numbers as to make it impossible for either the mineral or agricultural wealth of these hills and valleys to be developed.

Mr. Millard does not entirely approve of the project of exterminating the Ceris in order to make Tburon an American Monte Carlo. He thinks that is rather hard on the poor aborigines. But he thinks they could be forciby colonized on some other island or all hired to supply circuses, wild weat shows, dime museums, etc., with great profit to the State of Sonora in particular and the cause of civilization in general.

That is What a Freethought Lec-turer Said Yesterday.

Yesterday morning O. A. Phelps of Colorado gave a free-thought lecture at Turnverein Hall, under the auspices of the Los Angeles Secular Society. The subject was "The Garden of Eden," in which the searchlight of criticism was turned upon the dogma of "The of the Los Angeles Secular Society. The subject was "The Garden of Eden," in which the searchlight of criticism was turned upon the dogma of "The Fall of Man." The lecturer proceeded to demolish the fabric of religion and morality, but in its place he had nothing to offer. He beasted that he had freed himself from the "shackles" of religion and was now soaring toward new realms of research. The speaker began with the old theory that the dogma of the creation and fall of man was a conspiracy between kings and pricets to keep the world in ignorance. Genesis ii, 7, was then read: "And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul." What Adam was, said the speaker, before he became a living soul is not stated, but some one has said be must have been a dead soul. Turning to the fly-leaves of the Bible, he read "Translated out of the original fongues; and with the former translations diligently compared and revised." This, said the speaker, is an unverified book in which there is no religion, and clersymen know they are telling a falsehood when they say the Bible is the Word of God. Thous you had been a subject to the scriptures shows 2400 and nearly stated that, because there are linkles in translation, that the whole Bible was necessarily wrong. Turning the flag was necessarily wrong. Turning his as a reador; S. Spigsolo, as a cavalier; as it, if, he read, "And the Lord God said: It is not good that man should be alone; It will make him an help-meet for him." Because, the speaker said, God had made "a bad job" of man. Adam, Noah, Abraham, and lastly, the Son of Man, who died on the cross and from what the world is today, that is a failure. We read God caused a deep sleep to come on Adam and took a rib from which the woman was made. The speaker then narrated the fall of Adam and Eve. Closing, he said, the moment you believe in God you destroy your life, for God was created to keep the people in ignorance.

Thurs tional secretary of the W.R.C., Thursday afternoon, between 2 and 5 p.m., at G.A.R. Hall. Mrs. Bross, with her sister. Mrs. Torney, are making a tour of California, and are at oresent in Pasadena. The ladles of the W.R.C. in charge of the reception to Mrs. Bross are: Mmes. Mary L. Hartwell, Avelina Crowell, Glendora Kyle, Anna Buchanan, Ida L. Jarvis, Rose J. Rasey and Charlotte Jacques, The invitations are confined to the Relief Corps of Pasadena and Los Angeles.

Bright Chicago Woman.

Miss Elizabeth Harrison, who has probably done more for culture among women in Chicago than any other wowomen in Chicago than any other woman, and who is at the head of that woman's college which has been the center of education for mothers and of training for kindergarten teachers, is spending the season in Pasadena, the guest of Mrs. Charles Miller, North Fair Oaks avenue. Miss Harrison came to California suffering from the effects of overwork, but since she has been in Pasadena has made marvelous-progress toward health.

The Makay Mausoleum.

The Makay Mausoleum.

(Portland Oregonian:) The remains of John W. Mackay, Jr., who was accidentally killed in a hunting bout near Paris last fall, will shortly be placed in a magnificent mausoleum built for their reception in a San Francisco cemetery. Mr. Mackay is the second Californian to bring back to the Statewherein he acquired the vast wealth that enabled him to make world his home, the disappointed hopes that are symbolized in the tomb of a son. The magnificent mausoleum in which the remains of Leland Stanford, Jr., lie is a monument not more to the memory of a very commonplace youth, than to the grief of his parents and the vanity which prompted them to believe that they could render a name immortal that represented but a few years of a life interesting to them alone. The "ego" in mankind receives in no other way an illustration so striking as in the erection of costity tombs, which, with all their magnificence, can only dumbly attest to a future generation, wholly indifferent concerning it, the fact that an individual bearing a certain name once lived, suffered and died.

Buil fights in Spain are equivalent to the lights of gladiators among the Romans, which at once dispraced and brutalized that people. The amphitheater for the amusement, as it is called, of buil fighting, is 230 feet in diameter, with sitting and standing room for 15,000

Between watching the developments in the proposed fistic carnival at El Paso, and preparing for the various athletic events that are billed for next Saturday-Washington's birthday-the minds of the local sporting fraternity have been fairly well occupied during the past week. The kaleidoscopic changes that have marked the situation in Texas, where the sure enough sports are congregated in goodly numbers, are responsible for the diminished enthusiasm felt for the outcome of the affair. Practically none of the persons in Los Angeles interested in boxing have thought it worth while to journey to the Lone Star State and participate in the fistic feast, that now promises to result in a well-developed flasco.

The colleges have succeeded in awakening a deal of enthusiasm in connection with the intercollegiate field day events, which will take place at Athletic Park on Washington's birthday. Indications point to a big field of entries, and a series of closely contested events. There is no rivalry like college rivalry, and the sharpness of the struggles for supremacy next Saturday will be littensified by the reports of unusual training preparations, which are emanating from the various colleges.

The Expected Fight Between "Lanky

The way in which the widely-adverbeing managed cannot be said to reflect any great amount of credit, lustre or glory of any sort upon the principals and promoters. The delays that have occurred, and the postponements that have been the most conspicuous feature of the affair, are not calculated to en-list the enthusiasm of boxing devotees.

Some assurance is given that Mahe but assurances that falled to be fol-lowed by results, have been very plen-tiful with the backers of this fight, and the average man will prefer to wait the news of an engagement, before he becomes wildly interested in the mixing up of Maher and Fitzsimmons. A cor-respondent at the scene of the proposed fights contributes the following notes, giving an idea of the preparations that are taking place for the different events.

"Bat Masterson is to be master of ceremonies, of course, and Lou Houseman official time-keeper.
"The congregation thus far is a very orderly one, and, although there is a small sprinkling of the sharper and bunco man, it is not a promising field for that class of individuals, and no disorderly or dirty work is anticipated, although every precaution has been taken to preserve order at the ringside.
"There is a disposition on the part of the 'celebrities' here to resent the ubiquitous kodak flend, for the very good reason that their counterfeit pre-"Bat Masterson is to be master of

It will be in the initial rounds. This is a likely proposition, for a half-hour of ghost fighting and wind-punching without results is said to take the vimal out of Peter, who goes in with spiendid enthusiasm characteristic of men of his race and complexion.

"It is now understood here that the bull-fighting concession has been withdrawn by the Chihuahua authorities, but this will not be considered a misfortune by any of the American sporting men, who have seen that alleged sport and who consider it wanton cruelty in which there is not even the ele-sport and who consider it wanton crueity in which there is not even the element of chance to lend it zest.

"The battle between the great welter-weights, Bright Eyes and the Barbadoes Gorilla. Joe Wolcott, promises to be a historic event, and might be magnificent if it were not for the comic effect that the latter always produces by his very appearance. He is gradually coming down to weight, and is as strong as ever. He is not a glutton for work and does as little as he possibly can, but claims to have a good line on his condition and promises to show up at the ringside in the right fix.

"Dixon and Barry and Wolcott are all together at No. 401 El Paso street, and the two first-named are the strictest disciplarians at work. No one wants to practice with George, because he boxes all the time as if he were in a fight, and every one knows that he fights like a demon. I think, however, that his blows have lost some of the fearful impact that once distinguished the work of the wonderful feather-weight, but on the other hand, he goes at his men more wickedly than ever and the look in his eye is positively sinister. This fight will lack all suggestion of humor, for the Australian aspirant for this championship, Jerry Marshall, is a serious indomitable kind of a negro, and a rapacious punisher who is hot after the decision and will give or take positively or take pos

This fight will lack all suggestion of humor, for the Australian aspirant for this championship, Nerry Marshall, is a serious indomitable kind of a negro, and a rapacious punisher who is hot after the decision and will give or take, no quarter.

"Bright Eyes' will no longer admit visitors and is evidently quite in earnest about taking the measure of his grotesque rival, and the local and Dallas bettors think well of his chances to do so.

"Leeds is in magnificent shape, and if he is not affected by the altitude he matter of science and activity. Everhardt, however, is equally fit, and, although not as well schooled a sparrer as his handsome antagonist, he is an infinite punisher and is hard as a rock.

"There can be no doubt that it is the intention of the management to keep the battle-ground secret until the last moment, at least from the public. The 'accommodations,' including pletform, ring, ropes, seats and boxes, will spring up in a night, circus fashion, in a place in which interference, if meditated and possible, cannot be projected before the deeds are done and the different championships decided.

taken into account by the other riders who are training accordingly. Smith won the event last year, but this time the confidence of each college in its own man is "way up." Both races are paced, under a limit of 2:40 for the mile and 5:20 for the two miles, by a triplet tandern.

The sprinters are up to standard. Several of the Coast records have been broken, and two of the Amateur United States records in practice.

The Intercollegiate Athletic Association of the University of California and Leland Stanford, Jr., University is inclined to look with some scorn upon the efforts of the colleges in this part of the State. William Edgar McKee, president of the Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Association, says that it is the intention of the association to make up an intercollegiate athletic team to compete with the northern teams. Interest in athletics in this part of the State is much greater than at any previous time, and McKee feels confident of being fully able to cope with any other intercollegiate team.

In the fifty-yard dash is entered:

College. His battle with C. E. Robinson (U.S.C.) will be a feature of the

In the 100-yard dash L. S. Francis, Chaffey's reliable sprinter; F. A. Nance (P.C.) and H. L. Leland (U.S.C.) will do some tall rustling to reach the tape. Francis weighs 160 pounds, height 5ft. ing of lines and stakes that have hitherto marked the difference between racing men from amateurs to professionals. To these uninitiated the adjustment by the riders to the new order of things does not appear a very difficult matter. But a correct and full knowledge of the situation as it has existed, and as it now is, is certain to lead to the belief that in the task of adjustment very grave trouble will be experienced and complications result that will require the wisdom of several Solomons to unravel and straighten out. For years professional bicycle riders have been allowed to retain a semi-namateur standing, and at the same time receive salary for their services from bicycle manufacturing firms. This farce, for such it was, had worried the prominent men in cycle circles for some time, and at the recent meeting of the L. A. W. National Assembly, in Baltimore, the class B system was wiped out completely. Former class B riders were transferred to the ranks of the amateur, thus being given opportunity to choose between professional and amateur standing.

The rule defining an amateur was not changed in the least, and, as it now stands, problibite riders from

The 440-yard dash is to be a close race. Elliott, (U. S. C.) the man who took the medal last time: Andrew Noble (C. C.) and R. P. Tilman (P. C.) are the competitors. Tilman is a new man and is regarded by Pomona College as a treasure for future track teams.

The prettiest and most exciting race of the day will perhaps be the mile run between Andrew Noble, (C. C.) weight 185 pounds, height 5 feet 11 inches; H. M. Voorhees, (P. C.) height 5 feet 10 inches, weight 155 pounds, and Elmer E. Elliott, (U. S. C.) height 5 feet 10 inches, weight 157 pounds. All three of these men were rivals in this event last year. "When warriors old twice meet, the sword is thrust deep," so these men will see that each has a hard race of it. Noble is in finer form than before. Voorhees is a man who will give Elliott the hardest race he has ever run. Van Leuven, his trainer, has trained him specially for this event. The time that Voorhees holds for the mile run is a treasure with his trainer, and the final outcome of all his special training will be known on field day. Elliott is no less enthusiastic over his triumph. His steady training, despite his few days' illness, has put him in fine shape for this race.

The pole-vaulting practice is going on at a lively rate. At the local field day contests at each college the record made was surprising. It only lacked two inches of the Coast record. C. J. Toland, (U. S. C.) height 5 feet 11 inches, weight 150 pounds, height 5 feet 11 inches, weight 150 pounds, height 5 feet 11 inches, and H. F. Sloan, weight 150 pounds, height 5 feet 10 inches, are the contestants. All were in the field-day events last year. The medal for the event last year was won by Sloan (P. C.) This year the mark will no doub the raised.

R. M. Welch, the representative of the racing board of the L.A.W. in Callfornia, visited Santa Monica Saturday and talked with the racing men there regarding the situation. "I told the boys," said Welch, "that they could have until Monday (today) to decide whether they would remain amateurs, or by continuing to ride for salary, place themselves in the ranks of the professionals. I presume they will decide upon the latter course of action. They are placed in a peculiar position, in thus being forced to decide so soon whether they will remain amateurs.or not, but I am forced to require a decision from them at once, and as they understand the situation very well they do not think of accusing me of Ballou is also a new man. The records made by these men during the last few days show greatly to their credit. All of the races and contests on the field day promise to make an exciting time for the most passive observer.

The Louisville Driving and Fair Association has at last decided not to hold a spring meeting. Neither will there be one during the summer. The only meeting will be held from September 28 to October 3. There will be a special stake for trotters each day.

That there will be no suspension to special stake for trotters each day.

That there will be no antagonism to the new rules submitted and passed and the old rules of the college presidents, reworded and phrased at the recent college conference, at which seven institutions were represented, is considered certain by the conservative western college men.

SOLDIERS' HOME,

CHILDREN INVITED FOR WASHING TON'S BIRTHDAY

Celebrated-New Kitchen Now in Use - Three Deaths During the SOLDIERS' HOME, Feb. 16 .- (Regular Correspondence.) In answer to a communication from Mrs. Lida Crock er, University, Gov. Rowland has in-vited the pupils, including teachers, principals and parents of that school, to visit the home on Washington's birthday. They can bring their lunch baskets and the freedom of the home grounds will be given for picnic purposes. The Governor desires to extend this invitation to such other schools in Los Angeles as may wish to organize an excursion on that day. An in-formal programme will be observed at the home consisting of a procession through the grounds to the great flag-staff, where the flag will be saluted, pledge of allegiance given, and som familiar patriotic airs sung. From in-formation received the W.R.C., Ladies of the G.A.R. and W.C.T.U. will be represented at the home on this day.

THE GREAT EMANCIPATION. Abraham Lincoln's hirthday was celebrated in Assembly Hall last Wednes day evening and a home programme day evening and a home programme of unusual excellence was given. Gov. Rowland presided and his introductory speech was followed by one from Maj. F. K. Upham, treasurer, and various members of the home. The hall was crowded to its utmost capacity and every mention of the great name of Lincoln was received with rounds of applause. The home band and glee club furnished the music for the celebration.

NEW KITCHEN IN USE. . NEW KITCHEN IN USE.

After numerous delays, more or less annoying, the handsome new kitchen is finally in use, cooking operations having been transferred from the old 'quarters' ast evening. Things are not altogether in ship-shape yet, but sufficiently nevertheless to afford all the 'wests' their substantial and well-cooked meals today as usual, not omitting the regulation ple—one ple to four. The new quarters are roomy and elegant, and within a week everything will have settled down to routine and work will be easier.

Samuel Huling, late of Capt. Clark's company, Iowa Mounted Volunteers in the Blackhawk War of 1831-2, died February 11 of old age and exhaustion, aged 85 years. He was admitted to the home from Eureka in May of last year. It is not impossible that he might have been a companion-at-arms on many a march during that war with Abraham Lincoln, upon the eighty-seventh anniversary of whose birth he was laid away with his comrades on the silent hill back of the home.

John Adler, late Co. A, Ninth Kansas Cavalry, died February 13 of exhaustion, aged 70 years. He was admitted to the home last October from Chico, Cal.

HEARD IN THE BARRACKS. HEARD IN THE BARRACKS.

It is considered a joke on the authorities that during the week a telephone message arrived advising the surgeon that a member lay sick at Santa Monica and requesting the ambulance, which was dispatched promptly and without question. The man was found and loaded into the vehicle all right, and the team was driven back with due deference to the sick man's feelings. But when it reached the hospital it was empty. The "tired" veteran had slipped quietly out and gained the shelter of his barracks quarters; but it will take the indorsement of a reputable Santa Monica citizen to call out the emergency car for the future.

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 16.—(Hegular Correspondence.) Pacific Lodge, No. 203, Knights of Pythias, was formally organized Saturday evening. Members of the Uniform Rank of the order from Los Angeles and other members of the order from that vicinity came in a body and were met at the depot by local members of the order and a band of music. They were escorted to Masonic Hall, where the ceremonies were conducted. The selection of officers, as chosen two weeks ago, was ratified and about twenty-eight new members were initiated. The first and second degrees were worked, after which there was an elaborate supper at Eckert & Hopf's Pavillon. The third degree was then worked and the officers which had been chosen were installed. It was nearly 7 o'clock this morning when the ceremonies concluded. The first regular meeting of the new lodge will be held next Thursday evening at Masonic Hall.

This attempt to sit astride the fence and impose upon the city the expense of a double election is roundly con-demned by many people, who do not believe in increasing taxes to shield the press from the sad results of being compelled to have an opinion. While there is some criticism of the present Board of Trustees, as there is bound to be of all energetic officials, it is evibe of all energetic officials, it is evident that Riverside is very fortunate in having a board alive to the spirit of progress, who are determined to keep this city in the front rank of Southern California towns. THE HAZEN TRIAL.

Fred C. Hazen, charged with the murder of Cooke at South Riverside, told his story Saturday afternoon. It shows a lamentable condition of affairs in the Hazen household, which was the resort of many men. According to Hazen's story, Cooke and several other men were in the house with Mrs. Hazen, trying to induce her to drink with them. Hazen was in bed and watched the performance. When the men held his wife and poured liquor on her head, Hazen mildly remonstrated with them. This made Cooke mad and seeing Hazen's pistol under his pillow, he attempted to get it, which began the row. Hazen claims that Cooke shot first with a pistol, but admits killing Cooke with a rifle.

THE CABLE ROAD. It now appears that George B. Kerper will not operate the Fourth-street cable road as It now appears that George B. Kerper will not operate the Fourth-street cashe road as an electric road. For a year or so it was hoped that this experienced railroad man would carry out his intention to reopen this valuable property. He has spent much time here arranging to do so. The reason for his not doing so is believed to be because he declines to have his leg pulled by some of the old citizens who think they have a doubtful claim on certain property. These citizens are well known. They are said to have offered to compromise their alleged claims for about one-third of their face, or for about 2500. Mr. Kerper, however, appears to be too much of a business man to go ahead and invest large capital which would greatly aid in building up this city in the face of the slightest opposition, such as he believes these would-be leg-quilers manifest. The result is that San Diego has the prospect of driving away a man of large experience, who is well known as a man of entire responsibility and who, if reasonably encouraged, could do the city much good. The people throwing obstacles in his way belong to the silurian class which is such a drawback to this beautiful city. RAIN NEEDED.

There is no disguising the fact that rain is very badly needed throughout these interior valleys. For several years there have been many oldtimers who declared that they exepcted each year to show a lack of rainfall, not because of any visible signs, but because in early days there were dry spells of comparatively frequent occurrence, which somtimes covered two or three years, when cattle died by the thousand, and they expected a recurrence of such a season. Yet year after year has gone by with a plentiful supply of rain, and newcomers have come to look upon these men as "croakers." The absence of dry years has been explained by the heavy planting and the practice of irrigation, which, indeed, may have some effect. Yet this year the middle of February has been passed, and as yet these valleys have experienced but a small fraction of the average rainfall, and possibility of a partial drouth stares the ranchers in the face. The effect of such a condition would be to enforce the practice of economy in the use of irrigation water, would greatly raise the price of hay and feed and would make the raising of grain an impossibility. There remain three months in which rain may come to benefit the irrigator, but for the stock and grain raiser rain must come soon or its absence will be a serious blow.

The Denver Rocky Mountain News says that Kellenberger is one of four men who own the "White Devil" mine, that is now turning out ore that runs from $90 to $100 a ton. The owners have been offered several times since January I, the sum of $240,000 for their property. They bought the claim for $3000 a year ago. Kellenberger was poor when he lived here. He is a native of Switzerland.

The mineral belt is from a half mile to four miles in width, and has been traced for seventeen miles. The mines now open are located from three to seven miles from town, and are accessible over carriage roads. At one mine, the Jolly Boy, is a ledge of sugar-load quarts 100 feet wide that can be traced 300 feet in length. POWER OF INFLUENCE.

DR. CARLOS MARTYN PREACHES AT SIMPSON TABERNACLE.

Cospel of Character-building—Effect Upon the World's History of Unconscious Influence Exerted

Dr. Carlos Martyn, the "Dr. Park-hurst of Chicago," delivered his initial speech in Los Angeles last evening in Simpson Tabernacle. Dr. Martyn was for eighteen years pastor of the Thirty-fourth-street Reformed Church in New York way for the last three years has York, and for the last three years has held the pastorate of the Sixth Pres-byterian Church in Chicago. He has now left the stricter work of the ministry to act as field secretary to the Na tional Christian Citizenship League, and is lecturing in all parts of Amer-ica upon good citizenship in all its

For his sermon last evening, Dr Martyn took as his text part of the seventh verse of the fourteenth chapseventh verse of the fourteenth chap-ter of St. Paul's epistle to the Ro-mans: "For none of us liveth to him-self." and built upon it a stirring ap-peal for the exertion of noble indi-vidual influence as the most powerful factor for good in the community at large.
"Paul" said be "was writing as a vidual influence as the most powerful factor for good in the community at large.

"Paul," said he, "was writing as a Christian to Christians. The true believer must put off himself and put on Christ. In the words of Edward Everett Hale: "Look up and not down; look out and not in, lend a hand." The broad and general law prevalls that, whoever and whatever we are, no one can live only for himself. A man may strive to build around himself a Chinese wall of exclusiveness; he, may pray the devil's prayer of selfishness, and all selfish prayers are of the devil, going no lower than the Adam's apple in a man's throat, and rising no higher than the voice can reach, but it is impossible for him to live entirely unto himself. The old man's prayer: "Lord, bless me and my wife, my son John and his wife, us four and no more," is too often the spirit of so-called worship, but, do what we may, we are a part of the intricate network that interpenetrates all society with the mighty law of influence.

Influence is the common power which all men have to affect others by thought, word or deed. The exalted ones of the earth are confessedly influential. No one doubts the influence of the Czar of Russia, who sways the scepter of tyranny over thousands of prostrate subjects; or the Queen of England, the drum-beats of whose armies are heard in every quarter of the globe; or of the great kings of finance, whose very tread has power to cause a financial earthquake; or of the queens of society, those fair autocrats whose nod makes or breaks a reputation. In this country, everyone is influential. Every woman is a queen; every man a king, with power as absolute influence over those who look to them for guidance and support.

Some poor man is doubtful about being able to do anything for the ad-has absolute influence over those who look to them for guidance and support.

Some poor man is doubtful about being able to do anything for the advancement of the world. Years ago, in Germany, a poor, illiterate man, a domestic servant at the outset of his career, started to peddle tracts over the country. He went to Hamburg, where he met half a dozen others of like mind to himself. They formed themselves into a little society, and founded the first evangelical church in Germany, preaching far and wide, and practising without practice is like a body without a soul. In a few years, by indefatigable work, the foundation of a great and powerful church was laid, and all Germany was reached and gladdened by the wave of influence which started from the heart of this humble, ignomany was reached and gladdened by the wave of influence which started from the heart of this humble, ignorant man. The Earl of Shaftesbury, whose noble life was passed in lightening the burdens of the down-trodren and oppressed, told an audience once at Exeter Hall in London, that he attributed all he had been able to do to the influence exerted over his childish mind by his mother's maid-servant, a simple, Christian woman who died when he was seven years old, but who, in his years of infancy under her care, had kissed God's love into his heart and left the mark of the cross upon his brow to crown his entire life. "How far," said the speaker earnestly, "does this little candle throw its beams?"

As there is not an atom in all the universe of God which deep and the speaker was selected.

nestly, "does this little candle throw its beams?"

As there is not an atom in all the universe of God which does not attract other atoms, so there is no life, however humble, which does not influence those with which it comes in contact. The influence is often unconsciously exerted, but it goes out just the same. Every one has felt the magnetism of moral atmosphere. In some houses the air seems surcharged with the rumble of domestic thunder and the forking of domestic lightning, and in others, the home atmosphere is like the benediction which follows after prayer. Some individualities are like pebbles on the beach, touching those around with the merest superficial contact, others are drawn together by affinity into delightful companionship which spreads an influence like the warmth of sunshine. The influence of the baby in his cradle is more powerful than that of any monarch upon earth. He is the light of the house, and the sunny beams of his little candle are the most potent attraction to all the family circle around him.

A cold, self-centered man may go traction to all the family circle around him.

A cold, self-centered man may go through the world, living his own selfish life for his own narrow purposes, and be able to boast that he has never harmed any man. Intentionally, he has not, but it is the unconscious influence which exhales, like a noisome vapor, from an evil or selfish life, that does all the mischief. The cold word, the mean thought, the unjust act, are not to be effaced from the record of a life, and the influence upon other lives is as strong for evil as the generous impulses, the leving and thoughtful words and deeds of a sunny nature, are for good.

words and deeds of a sunny nature, are for good.

This unconscious influence exhales from all, and is the true sovereignty of the human soul. Every one should recognize it as a divine deposit, the grandest gift of God, and should exert it in all its fullness for the good of men. In civic affairs, it is a disgrace to any American citizen not to exert all his political influence for the attainment of purity in government. Americans of this day and time would have but little difficulty if they would but be true to the traditions of their forefathers, the men who laid their lives, fortunes and sacred honor upon the altar of liberty. In the war for Americans of liberty. In the war for Americans after the same of the same ican independence, the British muskets were loaded with saltpeter alone, while in the rusty old firedocks of the patriots, the charge was rammed home with ideas. The soldier fighting for sixpence a day had little chance against a man battling to the death for liberty and home. If Americans of today would stand forth for God, liberty and the right, praying, hoping, acting for the best, civic relations would adjust themselves and true religion be again the guiding motive in this age without God.

Influence is the immortal part of human life. A man dies, but his deeds, words and thoughts live and propagate. Voltaire is as viciously alive today, and his influence as potent for evil, as when it poisoned the mind of Frederick the Great. Sometimes a great chain of connecting influences can be traced back to a modest and humble origin. England owes some of her greatest evangelists to the life and prayers of one poor woman, the Christian mother of John Newton, at first slave-trader and afterward evangelist. Through his reversion to his early training and his powerful preaching of the gospel, the famous infidel, Thomas Scott, was converted, and, in his turn, won to the work of God Cowper, the writer of Hymns that have comforted many a sin-sick soul, and William Wilberforce, the apostle of freedom for the oppressed slaves. Corinth was one of the world's centers in the days of old, a magnificent metropolis, but now the only thing that rescues her name from oblivion is the stay within her gates of a poor, obscure little Jew, who never spoke to more than a few hundreds at a time, but whose influence now mesmerizes millions of human souls into higher life and thought.

The root of all the influence exerted throughout humanity is character. Character is generally understood to be what we are, reputation what we are thought to be, but it is generally found that the one answers to the other like the image in a mirror. Character-building, the creation of this subtle, penetrating atmosphere of mutual influence, which is to the ind acter what perfume is to flowers, is the sublimest work of life, and the best means of realizing the godlike ideal of mankind. Right living is the key-note of the scale, and, once attuned, the harmony will extend throughout the Reynolds Coleman, a well-known civil engineer, died at the residence of his brother-in-law, Charles W. Sanders, yesterday of consumption. Mr. Coleman could scarcely speak above a whisper for the last six months, yet he ventured up town as late as Saturday evening, but remarked to friends then that it would probably be the last time they would see him away from home. He was only 33 years old, and was a young man of exceptional ability. But for the malady which cut short his promising career, he would no doubt have risen high in his profession. Mr. Coleman came to Los Angeles about six years ago with Dr. E. A. Bryant, who was his firm friend and boon companion. The deceased had many friends here, besides his mother, sisters and brother-in-law, who sincerely mourn his death.

Officer Reynolds yesterday evening arrested Max Gebhardt, Ernest Meyers and Garfield Alford, three boys who raised a disturbance at the Orpheum theater. Willie Smith, a colored boy who was arrested at the same place for the same offense Sunday evening a week ago, and given a twenty days' floater, was found at his old haunts last evening, and arrested to serve sentence.

AFTER A LONG VOYAGE.

SHIP ST. JOHN ARRIVED AT PORT LOS ANGELES.

he Had Not Been Reported in Six Months - Becalmed for Two Weeks Off Southern California-A Man Lost Overboard.

The American ship St. John, Capt. Fales, 183 days out from New York, arrived at Port Los Angeles yesterday morning. She has 2500 tons of general merchandise aboard, consigned to Sut-ton & Beebe. After unloading a portion of her cargo at the local port she will proceed to her destination, San Fran-

Some apprehension had been felt for the safety of the ship, as she was some days overdue, and had not been reported once during her entire voyage, although Capt. Fales reports that he spoke several other vessels.

The St. John has been off the coast of Southern California since February 1, but was becalmed and could not make port. Yesterday morning she was sighted lazily drifting in the offing, and was towed to the long wharf by the tug Collis.

Deputy Customs Collector Max Bareto went out with the tug and boarded the St. John, giving Capt. Fales and his crew the first news from land they had heard since last August. Capt. Fales is an intelligent skipper, and takes great interest in public events. The Venezuelan trouble, the Cuban rebellion, United States bond issue, etc., were all new events to him, and he devoured the newspapers which Deputy Bareto handed him, eagerly. The captain is accompanied by his wife, who always goes with him on his voyages. All hands aboard the vessel are well, but one man was lost overboard during the voyage. The victim was a seaman named B. Fatenback, who fell from the rigging when the ship was in lat. 15 des. 30 min. s., long. 88 deg. 24 min. w., and dropped into the water. The sea was not rough at the time, but abounded with sharks. The presence of the finny monsters, however, did not prevent two of Fatenback's mates from jumping overboard to rescue him. But the unfortunate salior was drowned before they could reach him, and a boat had to be lowered to pick them up. The vessel was making only about four knots an hour at the time.

Gardner, the One-legged Hobe, is Playing Craxy.

J. A. Gardner, a one-legged hobe who was sent to the County Jail from Pasadena, several days ago to serve a ten-days' sentence for disturbing the peace, has either gone crasy or is simulating insanity to such a degree that it has been found necessary to confine him in the padded cell. He insists that he is Jesus Christ, come to save sinners. If he continues his eccentric conduct till the expiration of his term, he will be taken before a lunacy commission and sent to Highlands. Gardner is the fellow who came to Los Angeles last summer on a brakebeam and announced himself as a one-legged musician and elecutionist making a tour of the country. So well did he impress himself upon some local musicians or merit that a benefit was arranged for him at Music Hall, at which several prominent society people assisted. The assistance was all right, but when Bro. Gardner essayed to do h.s part it became patent that he was a fakir and ignoramus of the first class, whereat the dozen or more people in the audience fied from the hall and the people who assisted went home and kicked themselves.

Shortly after that Gardner was sent to the City Jail for thirty days for attempting themselves.

Shortly after that Gardner was sent to the City Jail for thirty days for attempting to take undue liberties with little girls in Central Fark. One night about a week ago he stalked into The Times office and announced that he was going to get married to the prettiest girl in Los Angeles. The next night he waited upon the agent of the Associated Press and introducing himself as Jesus Christ, asked Mr. Truit to announce to the world, through the medium of the Associated Press, that Christ had come. A day or two later he went to Passadena and raised a disturbance in front of Prof. Lowe's Onerasociated Press, that Christ had come. A day or two later he went to Pasadena and raised a disturbance in front of Prof. Lowe's Operatouse, which resulted in his arrest and present imprisonment.

The impression is that the fellow is not so craxy as he pretends to be, but having found it difficult to make a living by begging and practicing on the credulity of people, yearns for the fleshpots of Highlands where he will at least be comfortably fed, ciothed and sheltered.

THE "KID" JAILOR.

He is Altogether Too Alert for

Would-be Escapes.

Some of the hobos in the City Jail have tried to take advantage of the new day jailer, Officer Phillips, by attempting to escape from his custody, but the only result so far has been that four of them have succeeded in getting into the black hole, and the rest have perhaps by this time learned to have a wholesome respect for the new jailer, even if he is only a "kid," as they have been pleased to call him.

Saturday morning a long-term prisoner named Williams, entered into an agreement with a thirty-day man, George Miller, whose time was up that when Miller's name was called for discharge, Williams should take his place and walk out. Next day Miller could make his identity known and demand to be released by claiming that he did not hear his name called on the previous day. The trick worked so well that Williams had already passed through the outer door before he was detected, and he and Miller were thrown into the black hole.

Yesterday P. Polk, a one hundred-day man made a similar arrangement with Joe Miller, a five-day man who was going out. Julier Philips has not handed the knew Jong enough to know all the prisoners by long enough to know all the prisoners yellow, and now Polk and got his eegle eyed, and he has he was filing out in Miller's place, and now Polk and got his eegle eyed, and he have well will as an escape who had worked the same trick successfully on City Jailer Sieweke.

Without Drugs

You can be cured without taking a dose of medicine. Thousands of Californians are singing the praises of this wonderful appliance.

This famous Belt gives you a continuous current of electricity that you feel and can regulate to make mild or strong at your pleasure.

To do good an Electric Belt must be made in a scientific manner; must give a strong, perceptible electric current, and must be applied properly. This one is.

All California Praises It. If you will investigate the results produced by this famous Electric Belt you will never take another dose of medicine. After every other known remedy has been tried and failed to do good, this belt has produced cures in from two to six weeks. It is something new to most of the people in this city, because you have never seen it. It has never before been introduced in Los Angeles. It is different to the name of electric belt. never seen it. It has never before been introduced in los angeles. It is different from everything else going by the name of electric belt. It costs more than the cheap trash that is peddled on the streets, and is not to be considered as the same character of article. It is an Electric Belt. It gives electricity into the body steadily for hours at a time, applies it to the seat of disease, and can be regulated mild or strong at will. Any physician will acknowledge the benefits to be derived from this method of treatment.

It Has Cured. Within the past six months over one thousand cures have been reported to the San Francisco office. Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt is used in every city and town in the country, and is the only article of the kind whose merit is acknowledged by the medical profession. It is being used extensively by the physicians of San Francisco. Patients who had been given up as incurable by physicians have been advised to try this belt and have been cured by it.

It Cured These:

"The best has cured my Varicoccle, and I cannot see a sign of it any more. It caused me much pain in my legs and groin after working a few hours, but I feel better now when I quit work than when I start in." Thomas Kelley, gripman, Powell-st. R. R., 1118, Clay st., San Francisco, Cal.

"Previous to using your beit my back was so bad that I could not stand erect. Now it is strong and I have no trouble with it. My stomach is also cured." R. B. Cutting, Petaluma, Cal.

so had that I could not stand erect. Now It is strong and I have no trouble with it. My stomach is also cured." R. B. Cutting, Petaluma, Cal.

"I was partially impotent for two years and generally broken down. Your belt has cured me of pains in the back and frequent urinating." John B. Calward, Cal.

Can You Doubt It? There is no better evidence of the merit in an article than testimony like this. Dr. Sanden never publishes testimony that does not give the full address of the patient cured. You can write to these men and they will acknowledge their cures. There are many others given in the little book written by Dr. Sanden, called "Three Classes of Men," which can be had free upon application at the office or by mail. Dr. Sanden's office, at the corner of Second and Broadway, will be opened this morning, and a full inspection of these famous beits is invited. CONSULTATION FREE. Call on or address
